World's Fair Opens In Spite of Clashes

President Says Peace Prospect Draws Nearer

Envisions Better World by the Time Of Another Fair

NEW YORK (AP)—President Johnson turned prophet today at the opening of the New York World's Fair and said that peace not only is possible but coming nearer, with all this means for the dreams and hopes of mankind.

The President said that the final direction of the nation's progress can be toward "abundance or annihilation—development or desolation"—and this is in the hands of the people of the world.

In an address prepared for delivery in Singer Bowl at the fair, Johnson said this vast festival represents the most promising of our hopes.

World's Progress
"It gathers together, from 80 countries, the achievements of industry, the wealth of nations, the creations of man. This fair shows us what man—at his most creative and constructive—is capable of," Johnson said.

"But unless we can achieve the theme of this fair—Peace Through Understanding"—unless we can use our skill and wisdom to conquer conflict as we have conquered science—then our hopes of today—those proud achievements—will go under the devastation of tomorrow.

"I prophesy peace is not only possible, I predict it is coming nearer."

Johnson said that, if he is right, people will see at the

Southerners Ask For Jury Trials in Contempt Cases

WASHINGTON (AP)—In a surprise move, Southern senators battling the House-passed civil rights bill have called up an amendment to provide for jury trials in criminal contempt-of-court cases.

With the Senate debate now in its 37th day, this maneuver could throw out of killer the plans of Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois to bring up Thursday the first of 11 amendments he has offered to the anti-job-discrimination section of the measure.

However, Sen. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., leader of the Dixie forces, indicated they probably would not object to letting the Senate act first on the Dirksen amendments.

One immediate, tactical benefit for the Dixie forces was to clear the way for them to make a new round of speeches without running afoul of the Senate's two-speech rule.

Cruiser With Four Aboard Is Sought By Coast Guard

CHARLEVOIX, Mich. (AP)—A 27-foot pleasure cruiser known to have at least four persons aboard was the object today of an air-sea search in northern Lake Michigan, the Coast Guard here reported.

The craft departed Tuesday morning from Traverse City, Mich., bound for Marinette, Wis., on Green Bay. It was due to arrive Tuesday evening, the Coast Guard said, but has not been reported.

Authorities said the craft was operated by Ole Christenson Jr., with his wife and another couple as passengers.

Christenson's mother in Chicago, owner of the craft, said her son was to have telephoned her upon arrival at Marinette but has failed to make contact, according to the Coast Guard.

Violence Starts in Subway Station as Demonstrators Make Attempt to Halt Trains

BY JAMES DEVLIN

NEW YORK (AP) — There were some clashes between police and civil rights demonstrators today but the World's Fair opened on schedule.

There had been threats that the fair opening would be disrupted by civil rights groups.

Violence broke out in a Queens subway station where some demonstrators jumped to the tracks in the city's first subway lie-in.

Twenty-five persons, some with blood streaming from heads and faces from wounds suffered in the fight with police, had been arrested by the time the fair opened.

Emergency Cord Pulled
The subway incident started when someone pulled an emergency cord that brought a train to a jarring halt.

Some demonstrators aboard the train leaped to the tracks while others tried to obstruct doors of the train.

Three white women were among those arrested. They chanted "Freedom now" and

"Just like Birmingham" on arriving at a police station.

The demonstration had been planned largely as a stall-in—the deliberate stalling of automobiles to block traffic leading to the fair.

Stalled Cars Removed
Police spotted a number of stalled cars and towed them away, but traffic appeared lighter than usual. Many motorists who ordinarily pass the fairgrounds area in commuting from Long Island to New York City apparently took other routes.

Richard Whalen, an Associated Press newsmen flying in a helicopter, said policemen were posted in pairs along the fair approaches and that numerous tow cars were parked beside the highways.

James Farmer, national director of the Congress of Racial Equality who said he would lead the peaceful demonstrations inside the fair, said they were intended to spotlight the issues between the "glitter and the

Senate Sustains Veto by One Vote

LaFave Deserts GOP to Kill Districting Measure

BY HARVEY BREUSCHER

MADISON (AP)—The Republican-controlled Senate failed by a single vote today to override Democratic Gov. John W. Reynolds' veto of a GOP-sponsored reapportionment bill.

Sen. Reuben LaFave of Oconto strayed from the GOP majority to defeat his party's attempt to make the legislative reapportionment law without the governor's signature.

LaFave's switch brought the roll call vote to 21-12. Republicans control the Senate 22-11 and when party lines hold, have no trouble gaining a two-thirds majority.

Reynolds announced his veto Tuesday night, calling the plan to realign state Senate and Assembly districts "a fraud upon the people." He said it violates "every principle of equal voting rights protected by the Wisconsin Constitution."

Sen. Jerris Leonard, R-Milwaukee, who introduced the bill and helped guide it through the Legislature, said, "The governor has vetoed a bill which would make Wisconsin the best apportioned state in the United States."

Leonard also said, "Any technical errors in this bill can easily be rectified by a revisers bill which is standard procedure in this Legislature."

Veto Likely to Stand
Some Republicans have spoken of attempts to override the veto, but Assembly minority floor leader Robert Huber, D-West Allis, said he was confident the veto would stand.

Any attempts to override the veto, revise the plan or pass a new one must be completed by the May 1 deadline set by the Supreme Court. In a winter ruling, the court said that unless the lawmakers and the governor got together on a reapportionment bill by that date, the court would take over and do the job by May 15.

"The right to equal representation is not negotiable," the governor said in a seven-page veto message in which he listed a half dozen objections to the bill.

Milwaukee Seat Issue
Chief among them was the provision that gives Milwaukee County only one more Assembly seat, raising its total to 25.

Reynolds had said he would veto any plan that did not give the county 25 seats.

The governor said that based on the 1960 census, "the average or ideal Assembly district has a population of 39,528 persons, and

Souvanna to Head Coalition Regime in Laos

All Factions to be Included, Rightist Junta Leader Says

BY DON HUTH

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP) — A spokesman for the rightist junta declared today the aim is to form a new unit government of all factions, and neutralist premier Prince Souvanna Phouma will be asked to head it.

Col. Etam Singvongsa, the spokesman, was acutely aware of the threat of a withdrawal of U.S. aid unless the leaders of Sunday's coup restore Souvanna.

Etam said the junta is urging Souvanna to resign and then form a new government, although he did not explain how such a new coalition would differ much from the old one.

Urges Need for Unity
"We must have unification of the three rightist, neutralist and pro-Communist Pathet Lao armies and a strong government within the framework of the 1962 Geneva agreements," Etam said.

Also in Luang Prabang were U. S., British, French, Soviet, Australia and India diplomats, who have been trying to get the leaders to call off their coup and restore the status quo.

The United States fears the coup, assailed violently in Red Chinese broadcasts, will spur the Pathet Lao to resume its drive to take over this Asian kingdom. Laos presumably was withdrawn from the cold war arena by the 1962 Geneva convention setting it up as a neutral nation.

Souvanna flew to Luang Prabang on Tuesday for his second meeting with the king since the coup. The first meeting Monday was inconclusive.

Progress Hailed During Rail Talks

WASHINGTON (AP) — Differences were reported narrowing today as negotiators bargained toe-to-toe with less than 72 hours remaining before the delayed deadline for a nationwide railroad strike.

Representatives of five unions and nearly 200 railroads were closely examining each other's proposals "decimal point by decimal point," said White House press secretary George Reedy.

President Johnson voiced hope again Tuesday that the two sides in the five-year-old work-rules dispute would come up with a voluntary settlement before Saturday's scheduled 12:01 a.m. strike deadline.

Appleton police said the man has refused to identify himself and carried no identification. Although he is not believed seriously wounded, he was hit at least three times with revolver fire and a shotgun blast.

The shooting came after Calumet County Traffic Patrolman Irvin Vice halted a blue convertible which he saw leaving the Appleton city limits on S. Oneida Street about 1 a.m. Vice said the man got out of his

When Vice opened his squad car door, the man raised a pistol and fired at least five times in Vice's direction. One of the shells hit the squad car door.

Gunman Drives Away
Vice pulled his revolver and returned the fire, hitting the man at least once, grazing him in the head. The man slumped into the car, Vice said, but quickly scrambled into the front seat of the car and drove away.

Vice fired his last shell into the rear car window and struck the man in the back, he said.

The car continued to State 114 and turned east to within 200 yards of the intersection of State 55. Vice said the car then veered off the roadway and into a ditch and the man leaped from the car and ran into a nearby field.

Police from Calumet, Winnebago, Fond du Lac counties and other local agencies were rushed to the scene to search for the man in the fields near where he had abandoned his car.

Taken to Hospital
Three Appleton patrolmen, Roland Recker, Rodney Helms and William Steward came across the man hiding in grass about 200 yards from the Swedersky Road and in an exchange of gunfire, Steward hit the man with a shotgun blast. The man dropped his .38 caliber pistol, surrendered and was rushed to St. Elizabeth Hospital for treatment of his wounds.

Approval by the House may be overwhelming despite the criticism heaped upon McNamara and his policies by Rep. Melvin R. Laird, R-Wis., and a few other Republicans.

Laird, who will head the platform committee at the Republican National Convention, told the House Tuesday that "no new major strategic systems have been introduced into the inventory by this administration."

Support Assured
Democrats and most other Republicans, however, stood up to voice their faith in the military superiority of the United States over any enemy.

While some members like Laird criticized defense policies in general, there was little specific criticism of the bill.

The bill would provide $11.3 billion for the Army, $14.3 billion for the Navy, $18.5 billion for the Air Force, and $2.7 billion for defense agencies.

The total of $46.8 billion is $461 million less than Congress appropriated last year and $712 million less than President

Meet at Crossing Point

Britain, Soviet Union Swap 2 Men They Jailed as Spies

BY JOHN O. KOEHLER

BERLIN (AP) — Britain exchanged Soviet spy Gordon Lonsdale today for British businessman Maynard Greville Wynne, jailed by the Soviets as a courier of espionage information.

The British Foreign Office said it agreed to the exchange because Wynne was ill.

Swap at Crossing Point
The exchange was made at the Heerstrasse crossing point between the British sector of West Berlin and East Germany at 5:35 a.m. and took just over 20 minutes.

Informants in London said Wynne was flown from Moscow to East Berlin. They said Lonsdale was taken from prison in Birmingham and flown to the British air force base at Gatow about five miles from the border point where the exchange was made.

Wynne, 45, was sentenced in Moscow last May to eight years' detention—three in prison and five in a labor camp.

Lonsdale, 40, was sentenced in Budapest in November 1962 to 25 years imprisonment in 1961

as the mastermind of a spy ring operating at the Portland naval research establishment.

Wynne's wife, Sheila, denied that he was ill.

"He may be half the size he was when he started his sentence, but he's in splendid form," she said at her London home.

Wynne Lonsdale

A family friend said Wynne was expected to arrive at his home this afternoon.

The Foreign Office said the Soviet Union proposed on April 7 to pardon Wynne if the British would free Lonsdale.

Wynne was on a business trip in Budapest in November 1962 when he was arrested by Hungarian secret police. He was tried in Moscow with Oleg Penkovsky, a Soviet official charged with selling atomic secrets to the West. Penkovsky was executed.

Wynne testified before the Soviet military court that the British intelligence service had duped him into serving as a courier. He said that for six months he never knew what was in the packages he gave to and received from Penkovsky.

U. S. Pair Convicted
Testimony at Lonsdale's trial revealed that he had penetrated the British underwater naval research plant at Portland.

Convicted with him were two Americans, Peter Kroger, 50, and his wife, Helen, 47. They were later identified as Morris and Lona Cohen.

The Cohens, who operated a powerful shortwave radio station for Soviet intelligence, were sentenced to 20 years each.

Two Britons, Harry Houghton, 56-year-old admiralty clerk, and his fiancée, Ethel Gee, 46, both received 15 years for their part in Lonsdale's ring.

The farmers aren't taking pills. They feel fine. It looks like a bumper cash crop of maple syrup will flow from the annual rite of "sugarin' off" in New England this season.

Spring Fever Pills Given Maple Trees

BY DON GUY

WEST SPRINGFIELD, N.H. (AP)—Maple trees are taking pills for spring fever these days. Sugar maples get tired of working when hit by the first warm breezes.

The farmers pop the magic little pill into the maples when they first drill a tap hole.

The pill makes the watery sap flow later in the season insuring a longer "run" as long as the combination of warm days and snappy nights lasts.

Tested Trees
"I'm sure they help. I tested several hundred trees, marked them with paint. The trees with pills give more sap over a longer season," says Kirk Heath. His sugar house is on land farmed by his family since before the Revolution.

Farmers always have been puzzled when certain trees seemed to run dry. Federal and state agricultural experts studied the problem. They found that the flow of sap was slowed by the growth of micro-organisms in the wound caused by the drill hole.

Maple Farmers
The pills act as a germicide over the length of the "sugarin' off" season which in New England runs from late February through March and April, depending on the locality.

Modern maple farmers such as the 54-year-old Heath have been able to stay in business only by abandoning most of the quaint and traditional ways of harvesting sap.

Manpower costs too much to unload individual buckets from several thousand trees every morning. Heath uses about six miles of plastic tubing to connect 3,000 hillside trees, so that the sap flows downhill to big collecting tanks.

Certain trees flow earlier from parts of the hillside first, warmed by the morning sun. Heath uses walkie-talkie radios to talk to his men in the woods and route the flow of sap.

Outagamie Orders Study of Efficiency

Proposal Gets Surprising 51-3 Vote Support From County Board Supervisors

BY DICK LYNEIS
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

A resolution described by county business administrator Alvin Woehler as "a foundation for efficiency and economy in Outagamie County government operations" was passed today by the county board.

By an unexpectedly lopsided 51-3 vote, the board decided to hire a firm of public administration and finance consultants to conduct an efficiency study of the government system in Outagamie County.

Supervisors approved an appropriation of $14,000 to retain J. L. Jacobs and Co., Chicago, to conduct "a comprehensive and detailed administrative survey" and to develop a plan "to modernize administrative practices in Outagamie County."

Joint Proposal
In addition, the study will develop and recommend position classifications and compensation plans for county employees.

The resolution was jointly proposed by the executive and civil service and salary committees.

The three lone opposing votes came from Supvs. Frank Appleton (Appleton 5), Walter Kilian (Town of Maple Creek), and Marvin Babbitt (Seymour 2).

In its proposal to the county, the Jacobs firm said the survey and report on the organization and the administrative, fiscal and operating procedure "will consist of the evaluation and the presentation of constructive proposals for management and operating improvements with efficiency and economy as the objective."

Services, Relations
The survey and report will cover the services and interrelationships of each of the departments. Also, it will probe into several administrative services which cut across all county departments.

Each department and office will be evaluated with the intention of improving administration.

tive organization and services, and reducing total or unit costs within each department.

In urging the board to pass the resolution, Woehler said "our administrative problems must be met head-on." And, he said, "in the final analysis, however, it will be up to you, the county board, to evaluate the

Low Bids for FVL Expansion Total $387,765

Board Will Meet Thursday to Decide Extent of Project

Low bids for two proposed additions to Fox Valley Lutheran High School, opened Tuesday by the building committee, total $387,765.

The general board of the Fox Valley Lutheran High School Federation, made up of representatives of the 19 member congregations, will meet Thursday to consider the bids and decide whether to proceed with all, part or none of the building program.

Low bids fell below the estimated cost of $400,000 for the additions and related remodeling. High bids for the project totaled $442,840.

Low Bidder
Low bidders are A. H. Nimmer Construction Co., Kaukauna, general construction, $245,715; R. Wenzel Plumbing and Heating Co., Appleton, $58,733 for heating, $28,363 for plumbing, and a combined bid for heating and plumbing of $86,850; and Stephenson Electric Co., Appleton, $55,200 for electrical work.

There were 11 bidders for general construction, five for heating, six for plumbing and four for electrical work.

The two proposed additions, designed by Raymond LeVe and Associates, include a classroom wing to the north of the present building and a two-story addition including a music suite, cafeteria, kitchen and locker room, to the east of the auditorium wing. The present cafeteria area would be remodeled.

Ready Next Fall
Construction of the additions would take about one year. If the general board approves construction, school officials hope several rooms, possibly the library and study hall in the new classroom wing, can be completed before next fall.

The Rev. Harold Warnke, principal said the classroom wing would be recommended to be built first if the board approves proceeding with only part of the expansion plan.

No Marshal For Appleton's Flag Day Parade

Appleton's big flag day parade will not have a parade marshal designated as such this year in honor of the late Carl Peotter, who had headed the 100-unit event for about 15 years, according to Richard VanSistine, publicity chairman.

The position will be left vacant and instead two assistant parade marshals have been appointed. Jerry W. Arens and Edward Arndt. Arens' name was published inaccurately as Derad H. Ahrens in a story Tuesday.

Ald. Kenneth J. Loos is chairman of the parade which will be held Saturday, June 13. The next meeting of the parade preparation committee will be May 11 at Appleton City Hall.

Grand Chute Firemen Extinguish Blazes at Tire Firm, in Grass

Two minor fire calls kept the Grand Chute Volunteer Fire Department busy Tuesday.

At 6:45 p.m., firemen were called to Mathews Tire Co., 2930 W. College Ave., to extinguish a fire on a section of the firm's roof. Workmen had been installing new roofing to replace damaged areas, when a welder apparently started fibre insulation smoldering, firemen said.

At 2:40 p.m., Appleton firemen were called to assist the Grand Chute department in extinguishing a grass fire that spread over a large area near Foreway Express Co., 2240 W. Spencer St.

Appleton's '64 Goals Outlined to Council Fiscal Fitness Cited

Mayor Mitchell Says City's Condition 'Best in Decades'

BY WILLIAM C. CAREY
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Progress and fiscal fitness for the City of Appleton, based on a predicted healthy economy, were pledged Tuesday night by Mayor Clarence A. Mitchell in his annual message to the common council.

Mitchell, earlier in the month re-elected to his fourth term, took slaps at those who would promise progress while cutting taxes, referring to them as so-called "wand wavers."

Touching on the past year and stressing the future, Mitchell told aldermen:

—The condition of Appleton is the best it has been in decades and the peak has yet to be reached.

—Fiscal problems are not unique to Appleton, but they have been solved here in areas where other governmental bodies have failed.

—The local government has delivered more services and progress for tax dollars paid than have other communities.

—Adoption and updating of a long-range capital improvement program will keep the city financially stable and citizen tax load at a minimum.

—The only way to effectively broaden the city's tax base and hold the line on taxes is through expansion of the business and industrial community. Several projects are planned for the Appleton Industrial Park.

—While developments outside the city limits do not produce tax revenue here, they do provide jobs and income for Appleton residents.

—The major decision to be made by the council this year is the source of a new water supply which will play a key role in Appleton's future economic development.

—The board of education, which takes up the biggest portion of the total tax bill, should be judicious in their decisions and financial objectives.

—In 1963 Appleton enjoyed the greatest growth in its history without a tax increase.

—Appleton's boundaries are continuing to burst their original limits, meaning the city cannot have "a wall of China around the city limits" and annexations are inevitable.

Mitchell handed the council a big package of goals and asured his cooperation in attaining them.

"The condition of Appleton at this time is perhaps the best it ever has been and we stand at the threshold of a magnificent decade," he said.

"...It has been possible only because we have worked together as a community team, burying personal ambition, and often, recognition," Mitchell added.

"None of this progress would have been possible if we had worked individually."

Mitchell welcomed four new council members — Alds. John Ayers, Orville Strutz, Roy Point-

2 St. Norbert Students Hurt In Auto Crash

KAUKAUNA — Two St. Norbert College students from Kaukauna, on their way to school, were injured in a two-car crash on U.S. 41 near its intersection with Outagamie County Trunk JJ north of here about 7:45 a.m. today.

Wolf suffered contusions of the neck and scalp, but his condition was described as not serious. Miss Coonen was treated for a bruised lip and released.

Police said the Coonen car and one driven by Gale Meyers, 36, Green Bay, were involved in the mishap.

George P. Reimers Outlines Life, Tiffs With Ex-Wife at Waupaca

BY CHARLES HOUSE
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

WAUPACA—George P. Reimers, who is on trial for murder of his ex-wife's alleged boyfriend, took the stand Wednesday on his own behalf and graphically picked his way through a sordid story of an unhappy married life, of lust and death.

Speaking slowly and clearly, the 46-year-old former meat cutter and salesman described the events leading to the fatal shooting of Willys Holmes, 40-year-old associate of Mrs. Ruth Rolfe, Reimers' former wife.

Reimers is pleading innocent of two charges by reason of temporary insanity.

He is being tried in Waupaca County Court before Judge Wendell McHenry for murder in the first degree for the Holmes slaying and for the attempted murder of Mrs. Rolfe. The trial is in its third day.

Describes Events
Reimers described events leading up to the murder and the murder itself in a Chain O' Lakes cottage in which the divorced pair lived together.

Instructed to describe the scene which he allegedly observed between Holmes and Mrs. Rolfe, and which sparked the fatal shooting, Reimers paused and said, "I can't. It's awful hard to describe a thing like that."

"I couldn't believe my eyes," he said. "Something had to be done. My mind just exploded. I couldn't think straight. I stepped back into the bedroom and got the rifle."

Here, for the first time, Reimers' voice rose. He paused, then was questioned by his court-appointed attorney, Richard E. Johnson.

"I was shaking like a leaf. I couldn't hardly put the shell in the gun. There was like a

Assemblymen Hear Talk by Appleton Youth

Robert Taggart Says He Is Aware of Problems They Face

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

MADISON—A poised and serious young student of politics from Appleton stood before the Wisconsin Assembly Tuesday and told the state's lawmakers that he is aware of the problems they face as public officials and the pressures under which they function as politicians.

Robert "Chip" Taggart, recently chosen as Wisconsin youth governor in a YMCA youth program, was invited to deliver a "governor's" address in the legislature's lower house.

Taggart praised the youth in government program which is now operating in 30 states and said it has given him an insight into the practical problems of governing society that he would not otherwise have had.

Prepared to Share
He said youth is prepared to share in democratic government and politics, and that he has learned through his own experience that such participation is a "thrilling experience and a frightening responsibility."

Government is not an easy task, he said, because of the enormous pressures to which public officials are subjected.

The young speaker explained that the need for rules to govern society is illustrated in the child's earliest experience in the home and are typically dramatized when the young person applies for a driver's license.

In his home city, he reported the education of youth to its public responsibilities has been significantly aided by the work of Judge Gustave Keller of the Outagamie County court with his stern application of the traffic safety laws.

Temple Zion
Temple Zion will hold young people's services at 8 p.m. Friday in the home of Stephen Freschl, 1507 W. Lorain Court.

Indermuehle has accepted a position in Milwaukee.

Joseph Cummings, attorney, briefed the organization on its new by-law amendments and Clarence Richter, executive secretary, reported current membership of 211 members in the association.

Appleton Needs Negroes, Civil Rights Panelists Agree

Methods of Integration Lead To Only Discussion Conflict

Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Appleton must have Negro residents, panelists in a Lawrence College Civil Rights symposium agreed Tuesday night.

There was some difference, however, whether it should simply "be made known that Appleton would welcome Negro citizens," or if an effort should be made to bring Negroes into the city.

Panelists were V. I. Minahan, Post-Crescent publisher; Charles Evers, field secretary for the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP) in Jackson, Miss., and brother of Medgar Evers, slain Mississippi civil rights leader; the Rev. William Watkins, pastor of Crerar Presbyterian Church, Chicago; James McDaniel, secretary of the South-Central Planning Council of the Chicago Presbytery; Mrs. George C. Munro, president of the Appleton Board of Education and Samuel Sigman, Appleton attorney.

Discussion Topic
Theme of the discussion in Memorial Chapel, part of the college's civil rights week activities, was "the civil rights issue, and how it affects a community like Appleton."

The Rev. Mr. Watkins said "the school board, the chamber of commerce and other organizations should see to it that Negroes are brought into the community."

"It surely will produce crisis," he said. "The perpetrators will be accused, but you have to take the initiative. You can't accomplish anything without controversy or organization."

Minahan disagreed. "I can't help but wonder," he said, "if some of the civil rights leaders aren't too fond of crisis. Sometimes there are other ways of doing things," said Minahan, a member of the governor's committee on human rights.

Few Committed
The publisher explained few persons in the Fox Cities are committed one way or the other on civil rights. "Many may have latent feelings of brotherhood, and many may have la-

Tax Rebate Bill Has Approval Of Assembly

Retailers Entitled To 2 Per Cent on Sales Levy Receipts

MADISON (AP) — The State Assembly today completed legislative action on a bill to grant retailers a 2 per cent rebate on sales taxes they collect for the state.

The measure was passed on a voice vote and sent to the governor. Merchants now retain one per cent of total sales tax collections to defray the cost of collecting the tax. The increase to two per cent will reduce state revenues by an estimated $875,000 a year.

Assembly Democrats introduced Gov. John W. Reynolds' proposal to spend $17 million of an estimated state surplus to grant property tax relief to Wisconsin's aged. The Assembly is scheduled to hold debate Thursday on property tax relief for persons over 65 years of age.

Refunds Proposal
A bill introduced by Republicans Kyle Kenyon of Monroe and R. E. Peterson of Waupaca would require that if the state has an accumulated surplus of more than $5 million at the end of a two-year period, the surplus would be distributed as an income tax refund.

Kenyon said the refund would be in proportion to income taxes paid and that the first $5 million of any surplus would be retained by the state as a cushion.

Veto Sustained
In other action, the Assembly passed a bill that would appropriate $80,000 to the Menominee Indians for continued tuberculosis treatment programs.

On a vote of 45-24, the Assembly failed to override the governor's veto of a bill that would reclassify the mourning dove as a song bird. Reclassification would make it impossible for the Conservation Department to declare a hunting season on doves.

Approved on a 75-2 vote was a bill that would exempt the truck which hauled Wisconsin's world's largest cheese to the New World Fair from having to buy a license from the Motor Vehicle Department. The license would have cost about $1,000.

Bayorgeon Requests Change In School Board Make-Up

Kaukauna Mayor Recommends Representation for Rural Areas

KAUKAUNA — Mayor Joseph Bayorgeon Tuesday recommended an ordinance to permit representation of outlying areas on the board of education in his address to the new common council.

Bayorgeon also warned the council of anticipated expenditures up to $500,000 within the next few years at the sewage disposal plant, cautioned aldermen against going over the budgeted figure for the road program and recommended development of a five to 10-year storm sewer program for the city.

In his address on city affairs, the mayor outlined problems facing the new common council, made recommendations and expressed appreciation to all boards, commissions, aldermen and others who have worked hard for the city in the past.

Bayorgeon asked the legislative committee and school board to undertake a study of an ordinance which would permit outlying areas to be represented on the board of education. The mayor indicated outlying areas are contributing 25 per cent to the support of the schools and thus are having "taxation without representation."

He felt the number on the board could be increased or some other solution found to insure representation to all. He felt the matter was of extreme importance and should be solved quickly as construction of a junior high school was not too far off.

Sewage Plant

Mayor Bayorgeon warned the council of an expenditure of between $400,000 and $500,000 within the next few years as the city's share of providing secondary treatment at the sewage disposal plant as ordered by the state. Balance of the money is expected to come from a federal grant-in aid. No overall cost estimate was given.

The mayor expressed pleasure with the road program as it has been carried out in recent years, but warned aldermen against going beyond the budgeted figure. Pointing to the $100,000 set up in a revolving fund for street construction, he reminded aldermen they had exceeded this amount by $60,000 in the past two years.

"I think that the budgeting of $100,000 should be most carefully held to, and programming of these roads set up under a definite policy," said Bayorgeon.

Bonded Limitations

Speaking of the bonding limit of the city he said the city could borrow up to $5,364,000 limit. Present indebtedness is $2,958,000 or 55 per cent of the limit. Of this $180,000 is for city purposes and the remaining $2,778,000 is for school purposes. He urged caution, understanding and sound planning in future financing of projects concerning the welfare of the city.

Bayorgeon felt a storm sewer program covering a 5 to 10-year period should be established with a definite budgetary figure established each year. A set policy governing road and sewer construction could do much to help establish a stable tax rate, Bayorgeon said.

Committee Policies

The Mayor asked the legislative and finance committee to make recommendations on operation of the purchasing committee. Considerable difficulty has been noted in the past year on purchases being approved by a committee before they have received purchasing committee approval. Since the board of public works involves all aldermen, purchases sometimes are merely repetitious. Bayorgeon felt this matter should be clarified and the council should approve a plan whereby committee chairmen are authorized to approve emergency purchases of up to $100.

Business referred to committees is often lost in the scramble, noted the mayor, as he asked the council to have business referred to committee acted on and a report made of the action to the common council by the time of the next meeting.

He said he would make additional recommendations and observations on government and its operation periodically during the next year.

Rocket Netmen Top Fond du Lac

Win All but One Singles Match In 6-1 Decision

FOND DU LAC — Neenah collected its second straight tennis victory by besting Fond du Lac, 6-1, in high winds here Tuesday. The Fond du Lac courts were unprotected from the elements and the winds played havoc with the tennis balls.

Dave Koehn turned back John Wachs, 6-0, 6-4, at the No. 1 position but Mark Korrell bested the Rockets' Bob Kraus, 6-2, 6-2 at No. 2 for the Cardinals' lone triumph.

Lloyd Hewitt toppled Stan Derusha, 6-1, 4-6, 6-3 at No. 3, Rick Brabbee downed Dick Huffman, 7-5, 6-2 at four and Dick Pink, 6-4, 6-0 at the fifth spot. Koehn and Kraus outscored Wachs and Korrell, 6-3, 6-2 and Brabbee and Pete Neubauer topped DeRusha and Huffman, 10-8, in doubles matches.

Tom Jahns whipped Gary Zupke, 6-4, 6-1, in the only exhibition match.

The Rockets make their third start against Shawano at home Thursday afternoon. The Indians lost to Clintonville, 7-0, and tied Kaukauna, 3-3, in their first two matches. Shawano Coach Fred Davel only awarded two letters last year and both went to graduating seniors.

The most experienced boys on the team are Bob and Gary Johnson, who play Nos. 1 and 2, and Bob Jackson, No. 4.

Two Youths Hurt In Menasha Auto Accident Tuesday

MENASHA — Two persons were injured and close to $700 in damage caused here Tuesday in two separate motor vehicle accidents.

Injured were Karen Smolinski, 16, 804 John St., Menasha, who received a bump on her head, and Larry Nespodany, 18, 731 Third St., Menasha, who received undetermined injuries.

They were passengers in an auto driven by Louis R. Nys, 18, 1555 Plank Road, Menasha.

The mishap apparently occurred when the Nys auto struck a car driven by Elmer Kohl, 44, 477 E. Franklin St., Appleton, at the Seventh and Racine Street intersection at 1 p.m. Tuesday.

Nys was cited for failing to stop at the intersection. More than $400 in damage was caused at 4:25 p.m. Tuesday when a car driven by John Falley Jr., 28, 636½ Elizabeth St., Menasha, struck the rear end of a truck operated by Roger R. Rosch, 30, Milwaukee, when Rosch stopped in a line of traffic on Main Street near the Tayco Street intersection.

Civil Rights Week Opens

More Communication Between Races Needed

The lack of communication between the races was listed as the major block to understanding by Sydney Finley and Charles Evers, field secretaries for the NAACP, at the opening sessions of Civil Rights Week Tuesday at Lawrence College.

"We live on our side of town and you live on your side of town. If we don't get together, how are we going to know and love each other?" Evers asked. He pointed to integrated schools as a major bid in developing understanding and as a means of getting to know one another.

Finley urged the passage of the Civil Rights Bill before Congress, encouraging the audience to write their congressmen asking them to support it.

Commit Yourself "You have to commit yourself to desegregation," he said. "We need to end discrimination in employment and housing. The Negro deserves equal rights."

The aim of NAACP, he noted, is to overcome discrimination of all races, an effort he hopes will eventually put the organization out of business. The job will not be done, he noted, until the atrocities and brutalities against the Negro have ended. Where there is no reflection on race in voting, access to public accommodation, education and housing, he emphasized, then the NAACP can claim a job well done.

Special consideration of the Negro should be shown in employment, Finley said, because after years of suppression, the Negro needs special consideration and training to become qualified for semi-skilled jobs. The employer, he feels, is obligated to train the Negro employee.

Evers spoke for "Americanism," pointing out that the Negro does not want any more rights than the whites, but wants equal opportunity. The Negro is no more inferior to any other man with equal opportunity, he noted.

pointed out, "and won't settle for anything else!" Evers urged the support of the summer program initiated in Mississippi this year. It will offer the Negro education in the Constitution so he may be prepared to register to vote and teach him the ways of our society. He accepted the stereotype of the Negro with flashy cars, gaudy clothes and poor housing, explaining that for the uneducated Negro, this was a way for him to feel "equal."

We know it is important to provide the basics — food, clothing and housing — for our families, he said, but those who were never exposed to it, don't know any better and must be educated.

Are Americans The Negro is tired of being abused, he said, and is going to continue to demonstrate, to protest, until he has equal rights. "Negroes are Americans," he educated.

freight train going through my head," he said.

He testified he fired the .22 caliber, single shot, bolt action rifle from a hip-high position and that he did not at first realize the bullet had struck Holmes.

"All I wanted to do was chase them out of there. Holmes put his arms across his chest," Reimers continued, demonstrating. "Then he backed up to the wall and slowly went down to his knees."

Reimers described using the rifle to strike his ex-wife over the head, a blow which broke the weapon in two and rendered it inoperative. He alleged he struck her to keep her from attacking him.

Using Hands
"She was coming at me like this," he said, using his hands to indicate claws. He testified the gun stock was old, implying it broke readily, and that he believed he struck Mrs. Rollefson only once. He said he urged the bleeding woman to use a towel to staunch the flow of blood, and then asked her to get help for the dying Holmes.

"I told her that this was no time for us to fight. I said, 'Here's a man who needs help.'"

No Angry Words

After Mrs. Rollefson departed in search of help, he said, he carried on a conversation with Holmes and there were no angry words. He estimated the time of the conversation as between 6 and 10 minutes. He was warned by defense attorney Johnson not to reveal the subject of the conversation at the present time.

Reimers then described leaving the scene of the shooting and taking a glass of beer in a tavern across the street from the office of Sheriff Loran Frazier. He gave himself up, he said, to Frazier's 23-year-old son, Ronald, who was acting as jailer.

He described what he said was troubles which came "as a result of Ruth going out with other men." There were three divorce actions initiated by the couple, one instituted by Reimers, and two by Mrs. Rollefson. The divorce decree was granted in February, 1963, he reported, but the couple was "back together."

Met Holmes

Reimers alleged his divorced wife introduced him to Holmes May 23, while they were dining at Oakwood Inn southwest of here. He said he and Mrs. Rollefson returned home about 11 p.m. but that she departed again and did not return until 3 a.m.

He also testified Mrs. Rollefson did not come home any of the three nights preceding the shooting, and that he was overwrought and worried. He was unemployed during this period, and Mrs. Rollefson was working. He did not expect her home on the fatal Saturday night and he said he told himself, "Here we go again."

Kaukauna Man Jailed for Three Traffic Charges

KAUKAUNA — Eugene H. Zierer, 23, 127 1/2 E. Second St., Kaukauna, was sentenced to 90 days in the county jail when unable to pay fines totaling $100 for three violations when arraigned before Oscar T. Jahns, municipal judge, Tuesday.

Zierer was granted Huber Law privileges effective Monday and Jahns ordered him not to apply for a driver's license for six months.

He was arrested Monday night by Kaukauna police and Jahns fined him $50 on a reckless driving charge, $25 for driving without a driver's license and $25 for speeding.

findings of the consultants and to decide if they are to be put into practice."

400 Jobs

He said every one of 400 jobs, elective and appointive, in the county government structure will be evaluated. "Employees will describe what they consider their functions," Woehler said, "and supervisors will state what they think these functions should be. I may get put through the wringer, too," he said.

Supv. Eugene Kloes said the "real problem" is what will be done with the study.

"Will we be willing to do something about the findings, or are we just going to pay out $14,000 and not do anything?" Kloes asked.

Babbitt said "you (Woehler) have the whole plan in your mind. You know what should be done, but you have trouble tent feelings of prejudice," he said.

Integration Necessary, Panelists Say

He said he feared reaction of this middle group if Negroes were "imported."

Minahan used integration of Lawrence College as an example of an accomplishment without crisis, but McDaniel argued it likely was not done without controversy on the school's board of directors.

Evers said "no newspaper has given us a fair shake. Newspapers can do more for us than anyone else. It's your duty to start the ball rolling."

Sigman came to Minahan's defense. "You mistook his position," he said. He said Appleton "must have an organization with leaders to open the hearts and minds of people."

Intellectual Solution

"We want to solve this intellectually," the attorney said. "I don't believe this can be done only with crisis."

Mrs. Munro said Appleton's schools must be prepared to handle integration "effectively and quietly with no fanfare. Only on the high school level do we fear integration would receive too much favorable attention."

"We would not want a Negro student, or any student, to get too much attention one way or the other," Mrs. Munro said.

Asked why there were no Negroes on the school faculties, she said only one Negro had ever applied, and "he decided not to come to Appleton when he knew the situation here."

She said no photograph was required with applications for teaching posts, and the applications contain no indication of race.

The Lawrence civil rights week activities were to continue at 2 p.m. today with a discussion of student participation by John Lewis, head field secretary of the Student Non-violent Coordinating Committee, Atlanta.

Correction

A picture of the new fire station construction site in Tuesday's Post-Crescent described a crane lifting a steel beam in place. The beam was of prestressed concrete, not steel.

New Industry, Water Supply, Major Goals

er and Norman Beyer — and expressed confidence the 1964-65 legislative year would be a productive one.

"Progress costs money and in the past months we have heard much about money and government, not only here in Appleton but in the news stemming from state and national governments as well," Mitchell said.

Economy and lower taxes had been an issue raised by his opponent in the recent mayoral campaign.

Mitchell said Appleton's government was giving the people more for their tax money than many others. "Nevertheless, we continue to hear cries for 'economy in government' despite our enviable record," Mitchell declared.

He said a realistic approach was needed in dealing with fiscal matters, and charged department heads and council members with the responsibility.

Mitchell said an expanding Appleton, now having an estimated population of more than 53,000 and Wisconsin's eighth largest city, would have to cooperate more than ever with surrounding local and county governments. He hinted of future major annexations.

"This liaison (between governments) will play decisive roles in the development of both business and industry in our area," Mitchell said. He indicated what is good for the area is good for Appleton.

In pressing for more initiative in getting new industries, Mitchell said local government had a responsibility to assist businesses through proper zoning and utilities. However, he frowned on subsidizing firms as some communities have done.

He predicted the decision to obtain a new water source would be controversial, and said aldermen should study the facts when reports and recommendations are made by consultants, and in the meantime, have an open mind on the subject. Lake Michigan or Lake Winnebago will be the city's future choice.

Mitchell referred to 1964 as "the year of great decision for Appleton" and said problems would be accompanied by accomplishments.

"I reiterate that with cooperation, wise judgement, and responsibility, there is no reason why Appleton should not progress without burden," Mitchell said, as he predicted a decade of progress "for those who will work for and with Appleton."

Winnebago Board Rezones Land to Allow Construction of Plant

OSHKOSH—Winnebago County Board members this morning rezoned from commercial to industrial property in the Town of Menasha owned by Badger Oil Co. of Menasha to permit construction of a paper converting plant.

The property is east of County Trunk P and north of the airport road, board members were told. The area to the north is already zoned as industrial and the property has railroad facilities making it desirable for industrial purposes.

Rezoned to commercial was a part of the property in Town of Menasha owned by Harry Fredrickson which is north of Jacobsen Road and west of and adjacent to U.S. 41. Denied for commercial zoning was another part of his property, a small wooded area which is adjacent to some new homes.

Property owned by J. H. Kolberg along the east side of State 47 was rezoned light commercial. It also is in Town of Menasha in a potentially commercial area.

Board Okays Rezoning

Calumet County Allows Change in Town of Harrison

CHILTON — The Calumet County Board Tuesday approved rezoning of a 3½ acre parcel of land in the Town of Harrison from agricultural to commercial.

The rezoning act was first proposed to the board in a recommendation by the zoning board and then in the form of a resolution.

The board approved the appointment of Raymond Rusch as building inspector in the Town of Rantoul. The town recently voted in a zoning ordinance at the April 7 election.

A request by Supv. Wilmer Struebing, Brillion, for meal allotment for the highway committee while purchasing right-of-way in the Neenah and Menasha area was approved.

Struebing said the process would take about three months and would be done in conjunction with state engineers. He said 110 parcels of land would have to be purchased. The state will reimburse the county for the expenses, he explained.

Training of Scouters to End Thursday

The second annual "University of Scouting" will end Thursday night at the last of eight weekly Boy Scout leader training sessions and make-up sessions for Cub Scout leaders.

Boy Scout unit leaders and committee members in charge of outdoor activities are asked to attend the final session. Frank Sprister, leader training chairman said. The program will cover "Indoor Sessions of the Outdoor Program."

Under the direction of Ty Steff, make-up sessions in the Cub Scout leader training program will cover "What Cub Scouting Is," "The Achievement Plan" and "Den and Pack Activities."

Twenty-two leaders had perfect attendance marks during the past seven weeks of the training program.

YGOP to Hear Of Convention Role They Play

Mrs. Ted Cormany, national committeewoman for the YGOP from Madison will address the Thursday evening meeting of the Outagamie County Young Republicans at the Conway Hotel, according to John Lorenz, county chairman.

Mrs. Cormany's talk will center around the role the Young Republicans played in the 1960 GOP convention and what they are expected to do at the 1964 convention in San Francisco. She has held various offices in the Dane County and state GOP including vice chairwoman and state committeewoman before becoming national committeewoman.

Election of officers will be the chief business. It is anticipated that delegates to the state convention will be selected.

More short talks by local club members on the qualifications and history of various contenders for the presidency will be given. This week, talks on former Vice President Richard Nixon, Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge and Gov. William Scranton will be given by John Lorenz, John Galvin and Dr. Dave Grunwaldt.

An informal reception for Mrs. Cormany will follow. The meeting will be open to anyone interested.

U.S. Wants Nikita To Restrain Castro

Two Motives Behind Exchange Of Public Statements, Secret Diplomatic Warnings to Cuba

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States is trying to get Soviet Premier Khrushchev to keep a restraining hand on Fidel Castro's trigger finger when he gives the Cuban leader control of a modern arsenal of anti-aircraft missiles in the near future.

This is one of two motives behind an unusual series of public statements and secret diplomatic moves warning the Cubans against shooting down any of the U.S. photo-reconnaissance planes which periodically fly over their island.

The other purpose is to try to get Prime Minister Castro and his advisers to understand that, as one official here put it, "We just won't tolerate any interference with those overflights which are essential to our security."

reconnaissance plane was shot down over Cuba during the October 1962 missile crisis, there was widespread talk in Washington that if another such incident occurred the United States would knock out the Cuban anti-aircraft missile bases by selective bombing attack.

The latest of the new warnings to Cuba came from President Johnson Tuesday in talking to a group of newsmen at the White House.

Ironically, the present uneasiness of a new Cuban crisis arises from the apparently imminent success of the United States in achieving one of its major objectives — the withdrawal from Cuba of the last of the Soviet troops which went into the island in 1962 when the Soviet Union was installing nuclear missiles with which it could have launched a direct attack on the United States.

Withdrew Missiles

It was this action which produced the crisis which was broken when Khrushchev withdrew the missiles. Soon afterward he began a slow withdrawal of the combat forces which he had introduced and U.S. officials now expect the last contingent of around 3,000 officers and men to leave in the next two or three weeks.

In preparation for their departure, as the situation is understood here, the remaining Soviet forces have been training Cuban troops in the operation and use of modern and highly efficient anti-aircraft missiles which are capable of shooting down jet planes operating at very high altitudes, including the U2. There are 24 bases for the surface-to-air missiles — SAMS — and about 500 of the missiles themselves in Cuba, according to intelligence reports.

UW Will Limit Out-State Students To 1,600 Next Fall

MADISON (AP)—Out-of-state freshmen enrollment at the Madison campus of the University of Wisconsin will be restricted to 1,600 students next fall.

Registrar Wayne Kuckahn said Tuesday it became necessary to impose the limit when it appeared applications might lead to an imbalance in September's freshman class. The processing of applications from out-of-state freshmen has been discontinued. They had been running about 15 per cent ahead of last year.

The action was taken under regulations established by the University regents to maintain the current ratio of out-of-state freshmen. Students from other states now make up about a third of Wisconsin's freshman class.

The Madison campus will continue to accept the applications of transfer and graduate students.

Crews Dig Out Body of Man Caught Monday Night in a Cave-in

HURLEY, Wis. (AP)—Crews digging through tons of rubble 3,500 feet underground in an iron ore mine late Tuesday found the body of Merle Sands, 51, of Hurley, who was caught in a cave-in Monday night.

Sands was trapped when the ceiling and wall of a Pickands-Mather Mining Co. shaft collapsed in a sublevel. He had been moving ore to the main level.

A co-worker, Walter Damgard, 49, of Saxon, walked out of the sublevel moments before the cave-in.

New Jersey's Primary Called 'Most Placid'

State Left With Its Delegation Uncommitted

NEWARK, N.J. (AP)—One of the most placid primary elections in recent history left New Jersey today with an uncommitted delegation to the Republican National Convention and the first Negro congressional candidate ever to run on a major party ticket in the state.

The organization slate of Republican delegates-at-large led by as much as 10 to 1 over three pro-Barry Goldwater candidates who were running without the Arizona senator's permission or help. Counting of returns from Tuesday's election was slowed by overloaded ballots.

Negro Candidate

The Negro congressional candidate is William L. Etubbs, 46, Newark automobile dealer who won a three-way primary contest in the 11th District. He defeated a Negro doctor and a white lawyer. Stubbs will oppose Democratic Rep. Joseph G. Minish in November.

Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge garnered about 40 per cent of the informal Republican presidential preference vote, with Sen. Barry Goldwater second and former Vice President Richard M. Nixon third.

Lodge got 2,236 write-in votes with about 45 per cent of the state's districts reporting. Goldwater received 1,604 votes and Nixon received 954.

The turnout was reported low everywhere because of the gray, rainy day, the overloaded ballot and a scarcity of contests. The Mercer County election commissioner reported a record low turnout of about 8 per cent.

The only real statewide contest on the ballot was provided by the three Goldwater delegates—chief among them being former Rep. Fred A. Hartley, co-sponsor of the Taft-Hartley Act.

With 352 of the 4,603 districts reported Hartley had 560 votes, compared with the 6,616 total for the GOP state chairman, Webster B. Todd, who headed the organization slate.

Ground Broken For Marinette Industrial Park

MARINETTE (AP)—Ground was broken in Marinette's industrial park Tuesday for a $3 million particle board manufacturing plant to be built by the Rock Island Corp. of Rock Island, Ill.

H. George LeClerc, vice president and general manager of Rock Island's mill work and manufacturing division said construction will start about Aug. 1 and it was hoped the plant would be in operation next spring.

LeClerc was accompanied by David Haile, manager of present wood operations who will become manager of the new facility. Also to be brought in are a chemist and a foreman. Other help will be hired locally.

It is anticipated that Rock Island will have a three-shift operation in Marinette within three years and employ 45 persons.

Hoover Says Reds Do Influence Negro Acts

Communists Have Sought to Exploit Agitation on Civil Rights Movement

WASHINGTON (AP) — FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover has told a congressional subcommittee that "Communist influence does exist in the Negro movement."

The transcript of his Jan. 29 testimony, made public Tuesday, does not show whether he cited any specific examples.

The Communist party, he said, in his appearance before a House Appropriations subcommittee, tries to expand its influence among Negroes and particularly has "sought ways and means to exploit the Negro civil rights movement."

Negro Complaints

The Communists, Hoover said, try to use "what are often legitimate Negro complaints and grievances for the advancement of Communist objectives."

The number of Negroes who may be attracted to Communist party membership, "is not the important thing" Hoover said. He cited an old Communist principle that "communism must be built with non-Communist hands."

"We do know," he added, "that Communist influence does exist in the Negro movement, and it is this influence which is vitally important. It can be the means through which large masses are caused to lose perspective on the issues involved and, without realizing it, succumb to the party's propaganda lures."

Off the Record

At this point in the testimony Hoover asked to speak off the record, so the hearing transcript does not show whether he was asked for, or gave, any specific instances of Communist influence among Negroes.

Hoover, reporting on the FBI's activities, also described efforts by Communists to re-

Policemen Found At Late Party In Milwaukee

MILWAUKEE (AP)—A large number of police officers were found at a pre-dawn party that had developed after a bowling match by a police league at the Serb Memorial Hall on the city's south side last Thursday, the Milwaukee Sentinel said today.

The newspaper said that duty policemen were sent to the hall, and a large number of officers left or were taken from the building.

The log book at the district in which the hall is located said: "4:40 a.m. Thursday—Patrolman Coyer squad 65 reports strange men in Serb Hall—card playing, etc., Squad 227 vice squad alerted. Squad No. 6 sent. Investigation pending. Inspector Wahlen notified 4:50 a.m."

Police officials said a department investigation was underway, but Chief Harold Breier declined any information. City ordinance prohibits parties on licensed tavern premises after the 2 a.m. closing time.

The Sentinel said it had received varying reports that the party was attended by 46 officers, 26 and 40.

He escaped uninjured.

Reynolds Acts in Owen Dairy Failure

Seeks Court Order to Secure Assets of Clark County Firm

MADISON (AP)—Gov. John W. Reynolds has taken a hand in the failure of the Owen Dairy Co., instructing the State Department of Agriculture to seek a restraining order to secure assets of the Clark County firm which went out of business owing farmers about $300,000.

The governor issued his direction Tuesday, about the same time the Pure Milk Products Co-operative of Fond du Lac instructed its attorneys to seek an involuntary bankruptcy ruling against the cheese factory, located in Owen.

The co-op's attorneys, working under directions from the board of directors, planned to initiate their suit in U.S. District Court in Madison today.

William Eckles, the co-op's general manager, said Tuesday night at Fond du Lac that plans would be carried through even though the governor had intervened.

Can Withdraw Action "Our action can always be withdrawn," Eckles said.

The governor said a restraining order would attempt to tie up the Owen company's assets to prevent them from being claimed by creditors. Eckles said the co-op's action would seek to protect Owen assets for employees, shippers and other raw material suppliers.

The cheese plant was closed Monday by owner Herbert Gripenberg Jr., of Wausau, who said he was unable to make payments of $182,000 for milk delivered by 325 farmers. He said the farmers had not received milk checks since March 16, an estimate indicated the farmers might lose up to $300,000.

Reynolds said the closing of the plant "destroyed the possibility" of operating the firm under a trusteeship.

Federal Loans The governor said he would attempt to get federal loans for farmers hurt by the shutdown. He also requested an audit of the company's worth by George Gilbertson, an Agriculture Department accountant.

Reynolds said the audit could lead to a disposition of the assets to the farmers with claims against the company.

Gripenberg, who had operated the plant since 1952, said it was worth $500,000. Eckles also said Pure Milk directors had wired the governor asking him to urge the Legislature to appropriate funds to permit the Department of Agriculture to assemble a competent staff for its licensing section.

He said the co-operative wanted the licensing unit to have enough manpower to be sure that operating permits were granted only to dairy firms with enough financial resources to pay farmers for their milk during business reverses lasting 15 to 50 days.

Johnson in 'Pro' Class As Politician

Aware of Methods Of Opposition in Nomination Drive

BY DAVID LAWRENCE
WASHINGTON — President Johnson could readily be classed as a "pro" in national politics, and he showed his insight even into the techniques of the opposite party when he said at his latest news conference that Senator Goldwater is "up there pretty high" in the Republican presidential contest.

Mr. Johnson, in an apparently disinterested vein, passed out some information on the Republican race which corresponds with what the insiders in the Republican party here have been saying among themselves. The president commented as follows: "One of the men I talked to yesterday, who is very knowledgeable in public affairs, told me that he thought if Senator Goldwater carried California — and Illinois, as he has — if he carries Texas as he expects to, without any question, and the other southeastern states, probably having Arizona and some of the states like Montana and Wyoming, that potential was some 632 votes, without one or two other states that they considered could go his way."

"It looked like a pretty solid figure, over 500, the way it was going now. I haven't checked it and I don't know anything about it. But when you take the southeastern votes that have indicated they are for him, and add to them Illinois, Texas and California, what he might pick up in some other states, I think he will be up there pretty high."

GOP Observers
While many Republican observers throughout the country see the race the same way, some of them are frank to note that if Goldwater doesn't make it, many of his votes will be passed on to former Vice President Nixon.

Incidentally, what the president said, and what his informant told him, are in direct contrast with recent reports in newspapers analyzing the primary election in Illinois. Several writers, for instance, drew attention to the fact that Senator Goldwater got 64 per cent of the Republican vote in the presidential preference primary, but that he polled only 51 per cent of the Republicans who went to the polls to vote for a gubernatorial candidate. This comparison isn't really significant at all, because again and again the total number of votes cast for governor have been in excess of those cast for president.

Illinois Primary
In the Illinois primary this year, the names of both the gubernatorial and presidential candidates were printed on the same ballot, but only Senator Goldwater and Senator Margaret Chase Smith were officially listed in the presidential race. So the voting for Lodge and Nixon had to be by "write-in." A total of 800,000 votes were cast for the presidential nominees, while one million voted for the Republican candidates for governor in the primary. Persons who worked in the campaign in Illinois say that the gubernatorial race was much more hotly contested and attracted for more interest than did the presidential primary.

But even this doesn't answer all the questions that could be asked. While Senator Goldwater got 513,000 votes out of one million cast for all the candidates — a clear majority — the question arises as to how many of the 206,000 votes cast for Senator Margaret Chase Smith, for example, were a compliment to the first woman candidate and whether the bulk of those cast would have gone to Ambassador Lodge or former Vice President Nixon if their names had been on the ballot. As it was, a "write-in" of 52,000 for Mr. Lodge and approximately 25,000 for Mr. Nixon raises the question of how these two groups of voters would have recorded their likes or dislikes if the ballot had been solely between Senator Goldwater and Mr. Lodge, or between the Arizona senator and Mr. Nixon.

State Candidates
In many states candidates in the primaries for the party nomination for presidency, for the governorship and for other offices are on the same ballot. In many other states they are not. In a few big states, voting machines make it difficult to split a ticket when there are so many candidates listed for a number of offices.

One of the phenomena of American elections is the way in which members of Congress sometimes run far ahead of the nominees for president and sometimes far behind. A few decades ago, when there was a simple ballot, the presidential nominee usually carried along on his "coattails" the congressional nominees of his own party. But this doesn't happen today. In recent years, only 90 out of every 100 persons voting for president have taken the pains to vote for congressional candidates. There is plainly an indifference to the congressional

Worship of Mary Is Obstacle, Author Says
NEW YORK (AP) — Roman Catholic devotion to the Virgin Mary constitute one of the "main obstacles to the reunion of Christendom," Hilda Graef writes in a new book, "The Devotions to Our Lady" (Hawthorn).

However, she says that Marian piety is a "vital element in the faith of Catholics."

There seems to be no explanation for the erratic behavior of the voters themselves as recorded in the totals. There is adequate explanation either as to why so many people do not vote at all. It is true that sometimes personal emergencies or other difficulties in getting to the polling places prevent voters from casting their ballots, but more often than not it is lack of information about any of the candidates or the issues which produces either bewilderment or indifference — and often both. # Bar Association to Study Pay For Court-Named Attorneys

A formula to determine a fair price for legal services for court-appointed attorneys may come from a special meeting of the executive committee of the Outagamie County Bar Association and representatives of the county scheduled for Friday.

County Corporation Counsel A. W. Ponath will meet with the bar's executive committee and discuss the possibilities of setting wage rates for bar members accepting court appointments. Also expected to be discussed is the possibility of a public defender to handle indigent defendants.

Ponath met Monday with Board Chairman Alvin Fulcer and business administrator Alvin Woehler and decided to meet with the bar association officials. Ponath said the meeting "may come up with the solution to the entire problem."

At Meeting
Samuel Sigman, bar association president, said if any recommendations are made at the executive meeting session Friday they will be presented to the bar members at a regular monthly meeting.

County officials have been exploring the possibility of establishing a pay scale for court-appointed attorneys, since two weeks ago when the county paid $1,320 to an Appleton attorney who defended a 17-year-old youth charged with the theft of cigarettes and beer from a beer bar.

Fox Cities Residents Attend Editors' Meeting

Six Fox Cities residents attended the annual spring meeting of the Northern Industrial Publications, an organization of editors of company publications in northern Wisconsin and Michigan, in Wisconsin Rapids Friday.

Attending were Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Jones, Appleton Coated Paper Co.; Appleton: Thomas E. Branagan, Wisconsin Paper Industry Information Service; Neenah: Henry Bickerstaff, Marathon, a Division of American Can Co.; Menasha; Erik Madisen Jr. and Miss Alice Huck, Madisen Publishing Co., Appleton.

Express Concern
Since the bill was paid, county officials have expressed some concern that the payment of attorneys, which this year is an unbudgeted item, could get out of hand.

At least six other attorneys have been appointed to cases and have been paid. There are several other court-appointed cases pending.

Monday Ponath, Woehler and Fulcer discussed the possibility of hiring a public defender to take indigent cases. The defender would be placed on the county payroll. Ponath said the drawback on the public defender program was that in many cases, counties which had public defenders experienced a sharp rise in the amount of jury trials and other costly court actions.

President Appears to Be Gaining Confidence

Johnson's Activities Get More Headlines Than Those of All Republican Candidates

BY JAMES MARLOW
WASHINGTON (AP)—Watching President Johnson and the Republicans would-be presidents is like watching a bedside lamp trying to compete for attention with an all-night neon sign.
He has been getting bouncier and livelier, talking more and doing more, ever since he moved into the White House, perhaps as his confidence increased. But something which happened recently really seemed to charge his batteries.
While public opinion polls put him ahead in front of any Republican, last Wednesday visiting newspaper editors decided it was not a question of whether he would win in this election year but only by how much.

He has been outdoing himself ever since: A news conference the next day, a meeting with the editors Friday, a news conference Saturday, handshaking Sunday, a big foreign policy speech Monday, another news conference Tuesday.
Most of the time on these occasions he made announcements that got headlines.
The Republicans are whirling around and popping off practically every day.
They criticize him or they offer solutions for the ills here and elsewhere, all the time talking politics, and playing it. His advantage is that he can play politics without mentioning it.

While they sound like a voice in the hills, he gets a big play just by saying something or doing something as President, if it's only shaking hands with tourists or walking in the White House rose garden.
This lucky political position of a president in an election year has been true of every president but none ever realized it better than Johnson or sought to make more use of it.

24 Hour Politician
He has been a politician 24 hours daily since he came to Congress in 1937 but never more so than when he repeats he just wants to be president of all the people and indicates he wouldn't think of talking politics until the campaign begins.

President John F. Kennedy stayed busy trying to keep the public reminded of him. But in this Johnson is outdoing Kennedy who was a master at it.
He can get more attention just dancing, and he loves to dance, than a Republican presidential hopeful like Harold Stassen if he shouted through a bullhorn all day.

Johnson is probably the greatest White House dancer since Theodore Roosevelt, if Roosevelt danced if not Roosevelt, then it would have to be someone back in the 19th century.
Although, come to think of it, if Calvin Coolidge danced that would have been an exciting spectacle.

Good Example
A good example of how Johnson keeps himself in the news is to check the front pages of newspapers for the past two weeks. There was hardly a day when he didn't do or say something to put him there.

He got a lot of mileage out of the threatened rail strike alone: calling labor and management together, getting the strike pushed off, getting agreement on another 15 days of negotiation, making hopeful statements about the outcome.
Besides that, and going backward for the past two weeks day by day, here is part of what Johnson did:

Cuba Warned
Warned Cuba not to shoot down American planes flying over to make a check; announced cutback in material for nuclear weapons; shook hands with tourists after church; raised the possibility of ending the draft within 10 years and tossed out a barrel of figures on the economy; talked about the job of the presidency; another report on the economy and a warning to both sides in the civil rights dispute to use moderation; had his picture taken with Jordan's visiting King Hussein; threw the opening pitch of the baseball season and ordered a freeze on government employees' grades and salaries; welcomed Soviet Premier Khrushchev as a peace apostle.

In case anyone thinks he may slow down after all this: Today he arranged to go to New York and make a speech opening the World's Fair.

New Tools Urged for Education

MADISON (AP)—A Wisconsin legislator declared the state must be prepared to use television and other new learning tools to cope with increased educational demands.

"Wisconsin cannot afford the cost of building, equipping and staffing enough schools to accommodate in the conventional way the great surge of students which we know we must be prepared to educate in the next decade," Assemblyman Alexander Grant, R-Green Bay, said.

Citizens Committee
He spoke to a meeting of the Wisconsin Citizens Committee for Educational Television.

Grant, member of the Legislature's Joint Finance Committee, expressed disappointment that the 1963 Legislature did not approve appropriations for educational television.

"Some members considered it a frill," he added.

"Use of television in education is not a frill. It is a device whereby better education can be provided for children all over the state, which could bring significant economies through its ability to utilize talents of really superior teachers," he said.

2 Stations
Wisconsin now has two educational TV stations in Milwaukee and one in Madison.

The committee re-elected Milo K. Swanton of Madison, president. George Hail of Milwaukee, Ross Rowen of Madison and Mrs. Henry Gould of Janesville were named vice presidents; Lawrence Jones of Fond du Lac, treasurer, and Mrs. Fred Risser of Madison, secretary.

Leaky Heart Doesn't Mean Blood Escaping

BY JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

Dr. Molner is one of them.

We ordinarily think of a "leak" as an escape of the contents—a leaky hot water bottle or garden hose, or a punctured tire.

This is not the case with the heart. If you were able to look directly at the heart, the "leak" wouldn't be either seen or felt. It can be heard with a stethoscope, however, as a certain type of murmur.

Remember that the heart is a pump. It is divided into four chambers, and each time the heart muscle contracts, blood is squeezed along from one chamber to the next, through valves which connect the chambers.

One-Way Valves

These are one-way valves. The blood has to move forward, because the valves open in only one direction. Normally, that is.

But suppose one or more of the valves won't close tightly. Then, although most of the blood will still move forward, a little of it can slip backward again. This is the "leak."

Or, of course, there may be a small aperture in one of the interior walls which separate one chamber from another. That also would allow a certain amount of flow in the wrong direction.

The consequences? Well, the heart thus loses some of its eficiency. Whether this is much or little depends on the location and size of the "leak." If it is severe, then the heart will have to work considerably harder than normal to pump the same amount of blood for you. If the leak is small, the effect on you is minor.

There is no medication to correct such leaks.

However, either type of leak (in a valve or in one of the partitions) often can be corrected by surgery, if it is severe enough. That is the "open heart surgery" which we now hear so much about.

If a valve has been affected by rheumatic fever (one of the important causes of such damage) prophylactic doses of penicillin or sulfa drugs may be given over a period of years to subdue any subsequent streptococcus infections (these are the germs which cause rheumatic fever) and prevent further inflammation and damage to the valves.

And, as with anything else, the familiar ounce of prevention is worth the pound of cure. If, in your case, the leak was from rheumatic fever, your doctor can judge whether these preventive drugs will be a safeguard for you. If something else was the cause (some people are born with these leaks) he likewise can judge the severity and decide whether anything at all need to be done.

Dear Dr. Molner: Some doctors have said I am overweight and others say no. I am 5 feet 10, weigh 210, and take care of the lawn and do other work. I am 32 years old.—B.B.

You are a little overweight, but if you are as active as that at 32, all I can say is that on you it looks good! Why worry about it so long as you are not continuing to put on weight?

Dear Dr. Molner: I read recently in a book that cancer cells cannot grow in blood serum rich in Vitamin E. The author says the reason cancer has become widespread in recent years is that most of our bread and cereals are refined to the point that they contain very little Vitamin E. Is this true? MRS. R. K.

Vitamin E, for whatever reason, has been the subject of quite a few other theories—that it promotes fertility, that it is good for the heart, and so on, but I can't find that any of these ever has been scientifically substantiated. Until there is more definite evidence, I would forget about these notions."

Much heart trouble is preventable. Write to Dr. Molner in care of Appleton Post-Crescent for your copy of his booklet, "How To Take Care of Your Heart," enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 20 cents in coin to cover cost of printing and handling.

Two-Way Puzzle Winners Can Qualify for Book Prizes

BY CAPPY DICK

Today's is a two-way puzzle because contestants must (A) complete the names of five flowers and (B) thereby spell the name of a month.

Five boys and girls who do this correctly and submit the neatest, most original entries received from all the cities where this column is published will each win a national prize.

This prize will consist of the 948-page Advanced Junior Dictionary, a book entitled "Every-work, are published by Scott, Foreman and Company.

To qualify for a chance to win one of the five sets, a contestant's entry must first win of three Blow-Top Spinners. A special kind of top, these spinners can be set in motion simply by blowing on them. Winners will have fun keeping all three spinning at once.

Cinch to Solve

The puzzle is a cinch to solve if you study the picture carefully. First of all, in each square print a letter that will complete the name of a flower. If you use the correct five letters, they will spell the name of a month, reading from top to bottom.

When you have solved the puzzle, clip out the picture, paste it on paper or a postal card, print your name, age and address beneath it and decorate it in any way you consider neat and original, using paints, crayons, cut-outs or other means.

Address your entry to Cappy Dick's Midweek Contest at the Appleton Post-Crescent and mail it before midnight of day after tomorrow.

After the judges have selected the winners, their names will be announced here and their prizes will be sent to them by mail. Judges' decisions will be final. All entries become Cappy Dick's property; none can be returned. (Copyright, 1964)

Nurses' Recollection Day

Catholic Nurses of the Green Bay Diocese gathered at St. Elizabeth Hospital Sunday for a Day of Recollection. Members attended from Antigo, New London, Manitowoc, Green Bay, Appleton, Neenah and Menasha.

The program began with 10:30 a.m. registration in the staff room. Mass was celebrated by the Rev. Peter Schroeder, hospital chaplain at 11 a.m. in the hospital chapel. A 12:15 p.m. dinner preceded conferences from 1 to 2:30 p.m. with the Rev. Robert Vandenberg. Father Vandenberg spoke on the role of nursing as it concerns spiritual life; the role of the Catholic layman in the world and the role of nursing in promoting the love of God. After a question and answer period, the program was closed at 3 p.m. with benediction.

Quiet Moments of Contemplation were sought by the Catholic nurses attending their diocesan Day of Recollection Sunday at St. Elizabeth Hospital. In the chapel, above, are Mrs. John Courtney, Kaukauna; Mrs. Orlen Miller, Green Bay; Mrs. Richard Roudebush, Neenah, and Mrs. John Mullen, Appleton.

Fair Trip a Success if Planned Ahead

The greatest in history New York World's Fair is open. Before it closes in October, 1965, more than 70 million persons will have seen it. At least it is hoped they will have seen it. Because this Fair is so vast, extending more than a mile in every direction, many visitors will miss worthwhile attractions and not even know it.

Get a guide book and map and plan your day before you reach the grounds. In this way, each member of the family can spend more time at exhibits that interest him. A rendezvous place and time can be arranged for meals or departure.

There is one Fair fact the guide book won't tell you. Walking through the wonders of the world give you tired feet. Every night before retiring give your wonder - weary feet a refreshing bath in cool water. If a foot basin isn't available, soak a wash cloth in witch hazel and wrap it around the feet.

Back From Hawaii
Mr. and Mrs. Henry Breitenfeldt, 1107 E. Marquette St., have returned from a three months trip to the Hawaiian Islands.

Seventeen professional exhibitors will offer antique glassware, china, furniture and jewelry.

Serving as chairman for one of the oldest continuing shows in the Midwest is Mrs. Rudolph Kuss, Wauwatosa.

School for Girls Topic of Program

A social worker from Wisconsin School for Girls, Oregon, was built in 1927.

Committed by Courts
Girls in this school are committed there by a county or state court. Major reasons are running away from home or school, sexual promiscuity, stealing or uncontrollable behavior.

Representing the state's only correctional institution for juvenile girls was Mrs. Joan Robertson. She said that Wisconsin has the second best institution of this type in the country. The school, provided for by the legislature, is a center for care, treatment and rehabilitation for girls ages 12 to 18.

Tracing the history of the institution, Mrs. Robertson said it was in its formative years from 1875 to 1917. The new aren't wanted. The school attempts to train, socialize and treat them.

The eleven cottages scattered around the campus at Oregon are homes for the girls. Each cottage holds about 25.

There is a social worker in charge of each cottage. Four counselors in each cottage are trained by the social worker. These counselors provide a 'mother image' for the girls. The treatment program includes a 'community meeting' each morning and a 'cottage council meeting' late each afternoon.

The community meeting is an effort to socialize the girls. The social values gained at the school carry over to the 'outside'. In effect, these meetings are group therapy in resocialization sessions. It gives the girl a chance to look at herself and the nature of her problem.

Replacing Felt Top On Table

BY ROGER C. WHITMAN

Q: We recently purchased an old game table, the kind having four triangular pieces of wood which fold together to cover the felt top when the table is not being used. The table is in good condition except the felt topping is badly worn in places. What is the best way to replace the felt?

A: Remove the present felt and smooth the wood surface underneath with a portable electric sander, or with sandpaper, to remove any particles of glue, etc. Then wipe off dust. Coat the wood surface with pure, fresh white shellac (thinned half-and-half with denatured alcohol) and allow to dry and harden. Cut a piece of new felt to exact size. Then apply a second, liberal coat of the shellac to the wood and lay the pieces of felt in position, pressing it on firmly without stretching.

Q: I have a metal electric coffee percolator. We have made a lot of use of it, but it is now causing a metallic taste in the coffee. How can this be corrected?

A: The inside of a percolator should be carefully and thoroughly cleaned after each use to prevent build-up of a coating or deposit inside. To remove this coating once it has formed, use a coffee stain-removing preparation (available housewares, percolator with water, add a gent deposit accumulates, if the percolator is not well rinsed after it is otherwise cleaned and this affects the taste. Soap-filled steel wool pads are good for cleaning the inside of metal percolators but avoid using them on the outside, as it will scratch the finish.

Q: We repainted our kitchen ceiling and the upper half of the walls (lower half is covered with plastic tile). We used paint remover to remove some paint streaks and spatters from the tile and the tile finish is dulled in these areas now. Is there any way to renew the shine?

A: Rub the affected areas briskly with a paste of fine powdered pumice and water. Then polish with a thick paste of powdered chalk and water. Wipe dry with a clean, soft cloth.

Go Against Grain With Electric Razor

When shaving, go after the fine hair first and leave the coarse hair until last. That gives the shaving cream a longer time to soften the tough beard. When using an electric shaver, the important thing is to shave against the grain of the beard. Use short, slow brushing strokes without exerting pressure; and a circular motion on the chin and neck.

Fast Paced Card Play May Pay

BY ALFRED SHEINWOLD

If you play bridge quickly, you'll make more mistakes than if you play slowly, but so will your opponents. They will tend to adopt your tempo without even noticing it. For this reason, it pays to race through the play of a certain type of hand.

When this hand came along in a Houston bridge club recently, South took too long to decide on his line of play. This gave East a chance to think. South won the first trick with the ace of diamonds after a considerable pause for thought. Then he returned his low diamond.

West won with the queen of diamonds, and East signalled enthusiastically with the king of hearts. West obediently switched to hearts, and dummy's ace won.

Now declarer led the jack of diamonds from dummy, and East saw through the plot. "Why didn't South draw trumps first?" East wondered. And then he got to wondering what sort of hand South could have for his opening two-bid if he still had a losing heart.

Does Not Ruff

With all of these thoughts in mind, East carefully refrained from wasting a small trump on dummy's jack of diamonds. Instead, East discarded a heart.

South had led the jack of diamonds from dummy for the sole purpose of coaxing a trump from the East hand. It would be much easier to cope with the queen of spades if the opponents had only three trumps between them instead of four.

When East refused to ruff, South began to think. Surely, thought South, a defender with only worthless trumps would ruff the jack of diamonds. Hence South came to the conclusion that East had the queen of spades, and he promptly led the eight of spades from dummy for a finesse.

Down one. If South had played the hand just the same way but much faster, East would have played without much thought. He would have ruffed the jack of diamonds since his trumps were worthless anyway. And then South would have captured the queen of spades.

Answer: Bid two no trump. Make the negative response first, and show your hearts later.

Parade of the Trouser Brigade

When you look upon the casual scene, you somehow get the idea that skin-tight stretch pants are the only slacks available. And that there's not a single rear-view mirror in town!

Actually ladies' trousers are styled with great variety. Even those made of stretch fabrics offer some latitude in fit. Fashioned of rigid materials, trousers come gently tapered, or cut on the near - straight, or flared out in bell-bottoms. For patio and beach, the newest silhouette is wide-skirt wide.

To select flattering styles, all milady has to do is take a long look in a long mirror from every angle. Surely the horrors of both the bulging and baggy trouser would then be a thing of the past. But that is not to say a fine fit is all it takes to carry off the fashion.

As with any other, suitable accessories are vital with this one. Their choice of course depends on the character of the trousers. Sailing blues, for example, could call for sneakers and a middie or knit blouson. Patio pajamas might take to a frilly shirt and thong sandals. Handsome leather flats and a "Tom Jones" shirt or a blazer would be naturals for the classic tailored trouser.

But however well an outfit is assembled, it is incomplete without sleek underpinnings, posture and grooming. A lovely in trousers must look tidy — or she ain't no lovely.

The Game Itself is Trump

Those who don't play the game can't possibly understand the fascination it holds for the truly devoted. Many would rather play bridge than eat. It's more than a relaxation... more than a hobby... it's a way of life.

The bridge player will scramble out of bed at 6 a.m.; drive a hundred miles; sit, crowded and cramped at a card table for hours, playing each card as if the world stood still on the turn of a trick; refresh every play that has somehow managed to be recorded in a trained and amazing memory, wait wearily for scores, rejoice or groan as he figures what went right or wrong; then, after all is said and done, drive the hundred miles back home, where the hands will again be discussed for weeks.

Annual Tourney

So it was with hundreds of the true-blue who attended the Northeastern Wisconsin Team and Pair Championships sponsored by the Wisconsin-Upper Michigan Bridge Association and the Appleton Duplicate Bridge Clubs Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

Lloyd L. Doerfler was tournament chairman and Mr. and Mrs. John Fourness were tournament directors. Mrs. H. J. Weller was information chairman.

The Mixed Pair session was played Friday evening; the Open Pair events Saturday afternoon and evening, and the Fox Cities Special Pair, Sunday afternoon.

Win Honors

Honors were won in the Team of Four event by Lloyd Doerfler, Mrs. G. G. M. Eastwood, Dr. E. R. Laughlin and Mrs. Stanley Staidl, who placed third in a field of 28; Miss Mary Grace Kinney and Mrs. Clarence Schultz, second in a game of 20 tables in the Fox Cities Pair, and Miss Katherine Kelley and David Murray, Green Bay, sixth.

New officers, elected at the Sunday morning board meeting, are Homer Denison, Sheboygan, president; Bruce Nelson, Eau Claire, vice president, and Mrs. H. J. Weller, secretary. They will assume their one-year duties in July.

Score carders during tourney play were Charles Chmiel, William Eastwood, Neil Rattan and Bonny Weller.

Mrs. Charles Miller marks her score for the last hand in her private score book. Each table has an official scorekeeper and scores must be signed by all players. At right, James Burrows lays down his hand and hopes his partner will not have been misled by his bid, or expect more than he gets. (Post-Crescent Photos)

It's hard to tell from the expression of James Martenson, Chippewa Falls, whether he is concentrating, or saying that all is lost. The tournament brought bridge players from Wisconsin, Upper Michigan and Illinois to Appleton last weekend.

Homer Denison, Sheboygan, leaned back and considered. Bridge players each have their own approach to the game, and, though the room may present a unified air, a look at individuals brings out the variety of their methods. Mr. Denison is the new president of the Wisconsin-Upper Michigan Bridge Association.

Mrs. Lec Roberts leads a heart and waits to see what opponents will do as she attempts to outscore other pairs during the weekend tournament at the Conway Hotel.

TITLE FOR PARTY

Dear Louise: We and another couple are planning to give a dinner dance at our country club and haven't yet agreed on what to call it. We do want to give it a name. The other couple wish to call it a dinner and gala ball but my husband questions the word "gala." I would like your advice or opinion.

Louise Davis Answers:

I'm "agin" the gala. Why not just call it a ball and let your guests determine the gala? write that you hope to meet her "Come to a gala party we're in the near future and that you giving" is like saying, "Come to and your husband send sincere house for a delectable dinner."

NEVER MET BRIDE

Dear Louise: A friend of ours was quietly married last week-end to a woman whom we have never met. Both are 41. My husband and the groom work for the same company. I would like to write the bride a note of congratulations. May I begin: Dear Mary? If it should be to both, it would seem odd to write: Dear Jim and Mrs. Smith. Would it be all right to enclose the note with some flowers?

Louise Davis Answers:

Because of the bride's age and because you have never met, I suggest that you avoid the "Dear Mary" and write "Dear Mrs. Smith." Since brides are never congratulated, you might

Parents' World

Spanking as Discipline Method Discussed Again

BY DR. EVE JONES:

Dear Dr. Jones: I strongly disagree with you that parents should not hit their children. Many people of today are suffering from lack of parental discipline—I know I suffered this way. And believe me, my 8-month-old daughter knows that I care for her. She's secure, because I care enough to take the time to punish her when she needs it. A child who is never spanked, never punished, will grow up to be selfish and unhappy—the type who won't go to see her parents and who will turn on her own family. Please change your mind about spanking and give our children a chance to become real adults.

Mrs. K. S. L.

Don't be so hard on yourself! You mustn't let your feelings of shame and guilt about yourself and your feelings toward your own parents corrupt your attitude toward your child. Get some personal psychological help, at the agency whose name I'm sending you. That should help you sort out your own past. Then you'll be able to see that spanking your child won't prove you love her. Until then, please control yourself and stop punishing her. You can seriously harm a child only a few months old by spanking her.

Dear Dr. Jones: I'm happy to see you tell parents not to hit their children.

I raised three boys: the youngest now is 47. And they're fine men, gentlemen, good husbands and fathers, all with college degrees.

I never licked them—not even once!

The secret! I told them when I was angry. And I showed them that I was angry. But never by treating them with violence or disrespect. I would hit the bed or the wall or slam a door, all in their presence. They certainly learned that I could have hurt them if I had wanted to, but I had enough self-control respected them and loved them and enough so that I didn't hurt them.

Of course, I also made sure that they weren't chronically deprived or resentful. I figured that an unhappy child will always be ready to be naughty. But I sincerely believe that my example showed them how to control themselves and respect the rights of others.

Mr. S. B. M.

Thanks for writing. All children need the kind of treatment and example you describe. The fact that you practiced such methods 50 years ago proves that my methods aren't, as some critics charge "new-fangled and untested."

Homosexual Blames Family Pressure for Bad Marriage

BY ANN LANDERS

DEAR ANN LANDERS: In a recent column you offered two reasons why homosexuals marry. First: "They yearn to be normal and hope that marriage will somehow enable them to lead a normal sex life."

Second: "They hope marriage will provide them with a cloak of respectability and serve as an effective cover."

There is a third reason, Ann Landers, a reason of which I am acutely aware. I married for this reason, knowing full well that I was a homosexual. In simple language — it was the unbearable pressure from well-meaning family and friends.

I was 29, good-looking, well-built, successful in my profession, and frankly, quite content with my life as it was. My homosexual drives were low-key and I had none of the manifestations generally associated with homosexuality. I managed to keep that side of my life so well disguised that family and friends suspected nothing.

Finally I was so bedeviled by the relentless pressure to get married that I decided to do it.

The girl I married was charming, bright, and totally unaware of what she was getting into. She is now in a private mental hospital as a result of two years with a louse who used her for his own purposes.

In your book, "Since You Ask Me," one chapter was headed, "Marriage Is Not For Everyone." I wish I had seen it five years ago. Thanks for letting me get this off my chest. — Guilty

HIS MOST COMPLETE TEXTBOOK!

Today's school textbooks are modern, factual, comprehensive. Yet the most up-to-date of them and the most voluminous of them, cannot keep pace with, and record, the rapidly occurring events in the world which constantly accelerate the pace of history. Yesterday's thoughts were but prelude to today's actions which are already playing the melody which will linger in tomorrow's memory. What is done today cannot wait for even next year's textbook if, tomorrow, its consequences are to be analyzed.

But your daily newspaper can and does record today's deeds and stands immediately ready for tomorrow morning's research. Your newspaper is fed the news of today's vast world — from an alderman's plea to the demands of the dictator; from the bank deposit to the national budget; from a local art exhibit to the Louvre; from the engagement of the girl next door to an Embassy ball; from a high school contest to the Olympics — and, like a huge computer, spews forth the answers for tomorrow's records. No wonder our children — and their teachers — recognize a newspaper like the Post-Crescent as their most complete textbook.

Valley Fair Home Show Opened Today

Miss Fox Cities
Foxes Present, 25
Exhibitors Booths

The seventh annual home show at Valley Fair Shopping Center was launched today as about 25 exhibitors opened their booths in the enclosed mall at 1 p.m.

Lin Langley of Appleton, a freshman at Wisconsin State College-Oshkosh, will reign as Miss Fox Cities Foxes in the baseball both promoting the team, its personnel and other activities including a welcome-home banquet Thursday evening. The season opener games will be Sunday at Goodland Field.

Another home show feature not previously announced is the continuous Air Force movies to be shown the four days—through Saturday—at the Air Force recruiting service booth.

Product Information
The backbone of the show will be the displays, demonstrations and information on a variety of products, tools and services for the homeowner. Home convenience, comfort and improvement, embellishment and beautification—these are the main theme.

Regular show hours will be from 1 to 9 p.m. each day. There is no admission charge.

Other show features will be booths operated by a local travel agency, featuring world's fair tours, and by radio station WAPL which will include man-on-the-street interviews from 4 to 5 p.m. daily.

Many Unemployed Rural Laborers Fill Indian Cities

BY HENRY S. BRADSHAW

NEW DELHI (AP)—The train slowed down as flat, brown fields dotted with mud-walled villages began to be replaced by a clutter of thatched huts, crude buildings and garish vendors' stalls.

Krishen looked out the window at an alien world: the Indian city. It was a dismaying sprawl that meant uncertainty for an illiterate villager. It also meant hope of earning a living for Krishen and the family he left behind in his village.

Krishen disentangled himself from the others packed into the third-class compartment. Peddlers squatted by the station, selling cigarettes and betel leaves to chew. Bearded Sikh drivers lounged by rickety taxis. Men in dhotis, wrapped like diapers about their loins, strained every fiber of their thin, underfed bodies to heft grain sacks onto a bullock cart. A cow ambled along, oblivious to the confusion, heat and din.

Search for Work
Unencumbered by baggage, Krishen set forth to search for work. The street would be his home, his bed beside a wall, his restaurant a man squatting on the sidewalk cooking unleavened chappatis. The reason for his meager existence would be the few rupees — about 60 cents — that he could earn in a day's casual labor and send back to his village.

There was not enough family land for him and his brothers to support all their families. Krishen left his family in a brother's house.

His shy wife, the mother of three at 20, keeps busy with such chores as carrying water from the well. She sits on the mud floor doorway of the nearby bare house, a cheap cotton sari hiding almost everything except the red powder spot on her forehead that signifies Hindu devotion, and sifts grain while watching naked babies and dogs and chickens play in the packed earth lane.

Wooden Plow
The brother steers a simple wooden plow that scratches the earth behind a weary bullock, preparing a field for sowing by slinging seeds from a sack. He raises wheat that the women cut, stalk by stalk close to the ground, and scrawny sugar cane for sale to a nearby mill.

The village has no school, no post office. A path through the fields connects it with a larger village.

There, some shops and houses have kerosene pressure lamps instead of simple wick lamps or the light of a fire made with cow dung. Bicycles are signs of prosperity.

Krishen's village, one of 560,000 in this crowded country, is part of unchanged India.

Caste Rights
Caste still determines rights. Untouchables are barred from drawing water from the well, for fear they might pollute it, but they provide the midwives, scavengers and undertakers on whom other villagers depend.

The petty government official of the area is still king despite efforts to encourage local self-government. In most areas, big land holdings remain in single family control despite efforts at land reform.

Results are meager from government schemes of civic and agricultural improvement in the half or more villages reached so far. Farms are tightly conservative. In many areas, new methods are adopted slowly if at all.

Some villages have awakened to better seeds, better ways of plowing, the use of irrigation and of fertilizer. Others have failed to tap massive government irrigation projects built for their benefit.

Stagnant Production
Food production has remained stagnant instead of rising in accordance with government plans. A large part of India's population is badly underfed.

Lethargy and resignation are ingrained in the Indian culture and Hindu teaching that life is to be endured as penance to obtain a better rebirth. Overcoming this is the most basic problem facing India.

India has 135 million men and women working on the land, 100 million of them cultivating their own fields and the rest trying to survive with casual employment. The landless ones probably average less than five cents a day to live on and the others little more.

Population Surge
Underlying all India's other problems is the surge of population. The 1961 census showed 438 million persons — about the total of all of Africa and Latin America combined — in an area one-third that of the United States. India's population now is pushing 470 million.

The national government has conducted a birth control program for years. Some state governments encourage sterilization by making small payments. But the problem of a population increasing by some 2.5 per cent a year is basically untouched.

The hope of men like Krishen is jobs in new industries.

Industrial Base
In the last decade India has expanded its industrial base. Some of the new factories, from a massive steel plant to a fertilizer plant using electricity from one of the biggest dams in the world, are owned by the government. Some are private enterprise.

Industrial development has been very uneven. The Punjab area just north of New Delhi has shown spectacular energy in starting new industries. So have a few other areas. But large regions remain industrially, as well as agriculturally, in the Middle Ages.

Krishen will need luck because of stiff competition for jobs paying about $25 a month or less, a good salary in India. Industrialization has not prevented the number of unemployed from rising past a current mark of around 15 million.

British Built
India has been fortunate. It has had stability in the 16½ years since independence from Britain. In the century and a half that they ruled India, the British built the basis for a modern nation. Railroads tied the country together. An elite civil service provided sound administration.

India's people speak dozens of languages. Hindi, the tongue of north India and the main official language, is understood by fewer than half.

The English language still ties India together but the many other tongues create strong regional influences that could pull India apart.

Village Hero
Under Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru the government has been strong. Nehru remains the hero of villagers like Krishen despite quibbling by many more educated Indians.

Nehru had a youthful infatuation with socialism and since five-year plans began in 1951, India has laid some of the groundwork for a strong economy. But the goal of continued economic progress without massive injections of foreign aid is not yet visible.

The United States has been India's biggest benefactor. Its aid delivered and committed is well over $5 billion a large part of it in wheat.

Flexibility
The World Bank has given high marks to the way India planned its development and spent its limited resources. Recently the World Bank has objected to inelasticity in the Indian economy. A new finance minister, T. T. Krishnamachari, is now introducing more flexibility. This means a larger element of free enterprise.

The main political element is the Congress party. Gandhi found it a small middle class organization and left it a massive machine. The white cloth "Gandhi cap" is known in Krishen's village as the sign of the party of Gandhi and Nehru.

No other party has a truly

Broadway's 'Luther' Offers New Insights

NEW YORK (AP) — New York critics have acclaimed a new Broadway play on the life of the 16th Century Protestant reformer, Martin Luther.

Howard Taubman, of the New York Times, says the play, "Luther," by England's John Osborne, "may be a focus of religious dispute. But as drama it has size and distinction. It is about matters worth . . . thinking about."

Norman Nadel, of the World-Telegram and Sun, says it offers new insights into "a strange and unfamiliar Luther . . . Tortured, revolutionary, self-flagellating and uncompromising, this monk of four centuries ago emerges as a power in religious thought."

Some villages have awakened to better seeds, better ways of plowing, the use of irrigation and of fertilizer. Others have failed to tap massive government irrigation projects built for their benefit.

Results are meager from government schemes of civic and agricultural improvement in the half or more villages reached so far. Farms are tightly conservative. In many areas, new methods are adopted slowly if at all.

national base. The Communists, a distant second with 10 per cent of the vote in the 1962 elections, and other parties exist in regional clusters of strength.

But there are many such clusters of opposition to Congress control. They are growing stronger and more numerous.

Nehru Fading
Now Nehru is 74 and fading from the scene. His health has been declining for two years. He suffered a mild stroke in January. The man who has become Nehru's heir apparent, Lal Bahadur Shastri, 59, cannot be domineering. Neither is he simply a compromiser. His toughness as home minister in charge of domestic security during the 1962 Chinese attack showed a steely effectiveness.

Shastri already is beginning to deal with the problems that Nehru has been unable to solve.

A goal to which Nehru gave great importance, friendship with China as the cornerstone of peace in Asia, was never attained. Rivalry with Pakistan has been ferocious. The blazing quarrel over Kashmir embitters relations.

On the world scene, India has passed its prime as a major power. India is lost in its own problems.

The biggest problem is Krishen. His future and that of his family is the most import fact of India today.

Looking Over Proclamation naming him honorary chairman of the village board of Combined Locks is the Rev. John De Wiid, former pastor of St. Paul Catholic Church, who observed the 50th anniversary of his ordination Monday. He also had a village street named after him. (Post-Crescent Photo)

Wallet Unopened Since '60, Woman Tells Court

WILLIMANTIC, Conn. (AP)—Mrs. Margaret Richmond pleaded guilty to driving without a license and paid an $18 fine in Circuit Court here. But she had an excuse.

She told the court that she didn't know her license had expired because she hadn't looked in her wallet since 1960.

Today in History

Today is Wednesday, April 22, the 113th day of 1964. There are 253 days left in the year. Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1889, a gun boomed at 12 noon, signaling the start of the last spectacular free-for-all rush for government land. At that moment, 20,000 people surged into central Oklahoma Territory in a race for homestead.

On this date
In 1793, George Washington issued his proclamation of neutrality in the war between France and England.
In 1870, the leader of the Russian revolution, Nikolai Lenin, was born.
In 1898, a blockade of Cuba was declared by the United States.
In 1943, American fliers attacked Rangoon and Mandalay, India.
In 1944, American troops landed at Hollandia, New Guinea.

Kimberly Nips Kaukauna in Track Meet

Ghosts' Peters Produces Only Double Win

BY JIM HARP
Post-Crescent Staff Writer
KIMBERLY — In about as close a dual as you could find, Kimberly High School's track team nipped Kaukauna, 59½-58½, here Tuesday afternoon.

Each team had six individual first places and each won one of the relay races. Kimberly's strength in the field events offset a Kaukauna advantage in the dashes and medium distance runs.

Bill Peters, Kaukauna letterman, was the only double winner in the meet. Peters copped the broad jump and pole vault. In the broad jump, Peters went 19 feet 8½ inches on his last jump to nip Steve Meyer of Kimberly by one inch. His winning height in the pole vault was 9 feet.

Kimberly's final point margin would have been bigger but Steve Meyer, who was leading the high hurdles by a good margin, fell on the last hurdle and placed third.

First place finishers for the Papermakers included Ralph Lamers, 880; Tony Anthony, 220; Terry Subert, low hurdles; Jerry Wyngaard, shot put; Gordon Zillges, discus and Chuck Meyer, high jump. The 180-yard relay team for Kimberly included Dan Spiering, Subert, Anthony and Glen Wildenberg.

Taking firsts for Kaukauna in addition to Peters were Jim Kiffe, high hurdles; Mike Baish, 100; Jim Niessen, 440 and Rich Stegeman, mile. The winning spring medley relay team for Kaukauna included Niessen, Kiffe, Baish and Gary Theriault.

Started at Clear Lake

Burleigh Grimes Hails From Baseball Family

BY TERRY GALVIN

On the eve of the annual Fox Cities Foxes' "Welcome Home" banquet, a glance at the credentials of the guest speaker, Burleigh Arland Grimes, appears to be in order.

Grimes, or "Old Stubble-beard", as he was referred to in his playing days, will arrive in Appleton after he officially starts the Milwaukee Braves' home season by throwing out the first ball in today's Brave-Giant game.

Burleigh, along with Luke Appling, was recently voted into the Baseball Hall of Fame in Cooperstown, N. Y. The pair will be officially inducted into the "Hall" July 27.

Membership in the famed Cooperstown Hall seems to be a long way from a farm near Clear Lake, Wis., where Grimes spent his boyhood. He was one of the first members of Wisconsin's Hall of Fame, though

Terror Golf Team Wins Over Comets

WAUPACA — In its opening match of the season, the Appleton High School golf team scored a victory over Waupaca at the windswept Waupaca Country Club Tuesday afternoon. The Terrors had 331 strokes, while the Comets took 343.

Rick Martinek, of Appleton, was medalist on a 75-stroke total for 18 holes. He had 36 on the first nine and 39 on the second. Runnerup was Kyle Winters, of Waupaca, with a pair of 38s for a 76.

Other individual scores for Appleton included John Schulenburg, 45-42 — 87; Bob Ness, 43-43 — 86 and Terry Wegner, 40-43 — 83. Waupaca scores in addition to Winters included Bill Braads, 43-43 — 86; George Seul, 43-46 — 89 and Jeff Shambau, 47-45 — 92.

The next meet for the Terrors will be a quadrangular at the Brown County course with Green Bay West, East and Sheboygan South Saturday.

Wayne Piepenburg of Brillion is inches from the tape as Don Grassell vainly tries to lunge across first in the 880 yard run during the FVL-Brillion track meet here Tuesday. Piepenburg beat the FVL half-miler by three-tenths of a second to win the event. FVL won the meet, 64-54. (Post-Crescent Photo)

Fox Lutheran Track Scores 64-54 Victory Over Brillion High

FVL's Gresens, Lions' Richter Triumph Twice

BY HENRY SIMON

Post-Crescent Staff Writer

The Fox Valley Lutheran High School track team used depth to down Brillion High School, 64-54, in the inaugural meet on the new FVL track here Tuesday. The Foxes won only six first places, while the visitors garnered eight. Lutheran High dominated the seconds, 8-4, and the thirds, 9-3, to overcome its deficit in blue ribbons.

The Lions controlled the field events, taking four out of the five firsts. Jim Ross was a double winner for the Brillion cindermen, winning the shot put and the broad jump.

FVL Scores Slam

FVL's only win in the field events came in the pole vault, which Larry Mueller, Dan Krueger and Lee Kieple slammed.

The Foxes won five firsts in the races and relays, while Brillion was close behind with four.

A double winner was FVL's Bill Gresens in the 100 and 220, while Brillion's Glen Richter coupled a blue ribbon in the high hurdles with one in the high jump to boost his point total to 10, also.

The win was FVL's first of the season. Brillion previously recorded a triangular triumph over Hilbert and Freedom.

This is only the third dual or triangular meet that the Lions have lost in the last three years, including this season.

Both squads will have their next meet Thursday, as Brillion travels to Valders and Lutheran High plays host to Shiocton.

Keith Gehring Rolls 300 in Open Bowling

Keith Gehring, Appleton High School senior, rolled a 300 game in open bowling at the 41 Bowl Tuesday night. Gehring, who has had 279 counts on five different occasions, cracked his 12 straight strikes in his first practice game.

The 17-year-old kegler followed his 300 with games of 232 and 217 for a 749 series. Gehring was bowling alone at the time of the perfect game, but several other bowlers witnessed the feat.

Two Rivers Defends Crown; Jays Meet Kimberly Friday

Post-Crescent Staff Writer

The 1964-Mid-Eastern Conference baseball campaign will swing into action this weekend with its first full slate of games. The Purple Raiders from Two Rivers, the defending titlists are a bit short-handed in the letterman department. Judging by the final 1963 standings, the loop championship is literally up for grabs.

Shawano's Indians look the best on paper with 12 lettermen at Coach Walt Hein's disposal. However, Shawano dropped a 6-3 verdict to Bonduel in a non-loop opener.

New London boasts 11 lettermen with Kaukauna and Menasha next in line with eight each. Coach Clem Massey's Jays and the Rockets of Coach Joe Braun have two non-league affairs apiece under their belts.

Menasha will open at Kimberly Friday, with Kaukauna at Two Rivers, New London at Shawano and Clintonville at Neenah set for Saturday.

The teams' outlooks:
TWO RIVERS — First year Coach John Mihalko may have difficulty in replacing some of the members of the 1963 title team that have graduated. The Purple Raiders have six veterans in uniform.

Dennis Sinkula, on the mound, and Rico Goedjen will form the battery. E. J. Streu and Bill Grimm are lettermen infielders with Glen Guetschow and Dick Peterson outfield returnees. Mihalko's major task is finding a hurler to back up Sinkula.

MENASHA — Eight lettermen form the nucleus. The Jays have dropped a pair of close non-conference tilts by scores of 1-0 (to Stockbridge) and 4-3 (to Waupaca.

Among the "M" winners are pitchers Mike Vindhurst and Stan Ostrowski; infielders Terry Haack, Dick Sorenson and Mike Leroy and outfielders Bob Wendt and Tim Leopold. Norris Quick is an experienced catcher.

SHAWANO — The dean of M-E baseball coaches, Hein, appears to be looking toward a successful year with 12 lettermen among the candidates for the '63 Indian diamond edition. Hein can choose from three veteran pitchers, Wayne Darling, Vaughn James and John Daehman. Darling was 4-2 in '63 while James was 2-2.

Other letterwinners include outfielders Bob Thorne, Jerry Lemke, Dick Hartman and Tom Marks; infielders Gary Laehn, Ken Brooks and Marshall Conrad and catchers Mike Hoff-

Hahn's Lanes in Third Spot of City Tournament

Behnke's Clothing, of the Major Scratch League, cracked a 3,002 series to move into second place in the 25th annual Appleton Bowling Association tournament team event Tuesday night.

Hahn's Lanes, also of the Major Scratch loop, had a 2,999 set to take over the third place spot. These were the only changes in team action last night.

Schreiter's Tap, with a 3,200 count, held first place. A total of 12 teams will roll tonight to wind up the team action. Doubles and singles begin at 7 p.m. Thursday.

High individual counts Tuesday night included Wally Roblee, 225-621; Bud Wegner, 235; Phil Kurczewski, 586; Wally Moore, 225-601; Ed Grassl, 232-616; and Keith Gehring, 589.

Indians Top A's on Clout By Wagner

BY MIKE RATHET

Associated Press Sports Writer

Charles Finley doesn't need a pennant porch. He needs a right fielder on stilts.

Finley's right fielder, Rocky Colavito, had all the other equipment, a glove, spikes and a wedding gown white uniform but without the stilts he just couldn't handle Leon Wagner's high, towering homer that triggered Cleveland to a 5-3 victory over Kansas City Tuesday night.

The Indians' victory ruined the A's home debut and spoiled the coming out party for the porch, but in no way dimmed the festivities. A few more innovations from Finley and Kansas City could have held its own World's Fair.

28,165 on Hand
There were these attractions provided by the A's owner for the 28,165 on hand in multi-hued Municipal Stadium:

—The A's, dressed in their alternate uniforms of wedding gown white, trimmed in Ft. Knox gold with Kelly green sleeves.

—A battery of 60 green and gold lights and three loud horns, set to go off for every A's homer in place of the fireworks the city has banned Finley from using.

—The outfield walls, painted green and gold and splotted with question marks where white lettering compared fence distances with New York's Yankee Stadium.

—The porch, an area in right field that reduces the dimensions of Municipal Stadium, bringing them more in line with the distances at Yankee Stadium.

The A's looked sharp. The outfield walls were informative. And the lights worked. But the porch didn't.

Finley built the porch to catch the A's homers. It was bigger originally, but didn't conform to baseball rules and was whittled down in size. It stood there beckoning Tuesday night — but all three homers hit eluded it.

Meanwhile, homers were hit all over Wrigley Field in Chicago, Pittsburgh defeating the Cubs 8-5 on Gene Freese's pinch-hit homer in the ninth inning — the ninth homer of the game.

In the only other games played, Cincinnati walloped Houston 10-5 with a 16-hit attack.

Tommy McDonald Hopes to Be Able to Play for Dallas

DALLAS (AP) — When the Dallas Cowboys got Tommy McDonald in a trade with the Philadelphia Eagles a warm glow of confidence spread over the Dallas front office. General opinion seemed to be that this was the one last thing needed to put the Cowboys on top of the National Football League.

He was the second great passer-receiver snared by General Manager Tex Schramm. Buddy Dial was the first—he was acquired from Pittsburgh for a draft choice that the Steelers couldn't cash in on.

McDonald is in town to pretty well verify the hopes of the Cowboy owners. He says he's going to do everything he can to play with Dallas because he figures it will be a championship contender, and he wants to play on another being a contender.

Tommy said he couldn't get that at Philadelphia, which he explained is rebuilding and three or four years away from being a contender. Tommy has a tough choice to make. At Philadelphia he had a year-around job with a cigar manufacturing company, worked for a match company, had a radio and television show and was even planning to enter the restaurant business.

"I've got four or five more years of pro football left," said the seven-year veteran, "and you can't eat leather when you get out of it. But my first love is football and if there's any way I can work it out I'm going to do it and come here and play with the Cowboys. They're going places."

He said he came to Dallas to find out the situation and if he would want to play here. Now he's going back to Philadelphia and decide. He said he hoped to work something out whereby he won't be losing so much if he makes the change.

Glocke Pitches Route Against West DePere

NEW LONDON—A throwing error in the 10th inning gave New London High School the deciding run and a 3-2 non-conference victory over West DePere here Tuesday afternoon.

Dave Dernbach walked in the 10th, and Jim McDaniel beat out an infield hit. On the throw to first in an attempt to get McDaniel, the ball got away from the first baseman and Dernbach came all the way around to score.

Gary Glocke hurled the route for New London and picked up the win. He fanned six batters and did not issue a walk although he was touched for 11 hits.

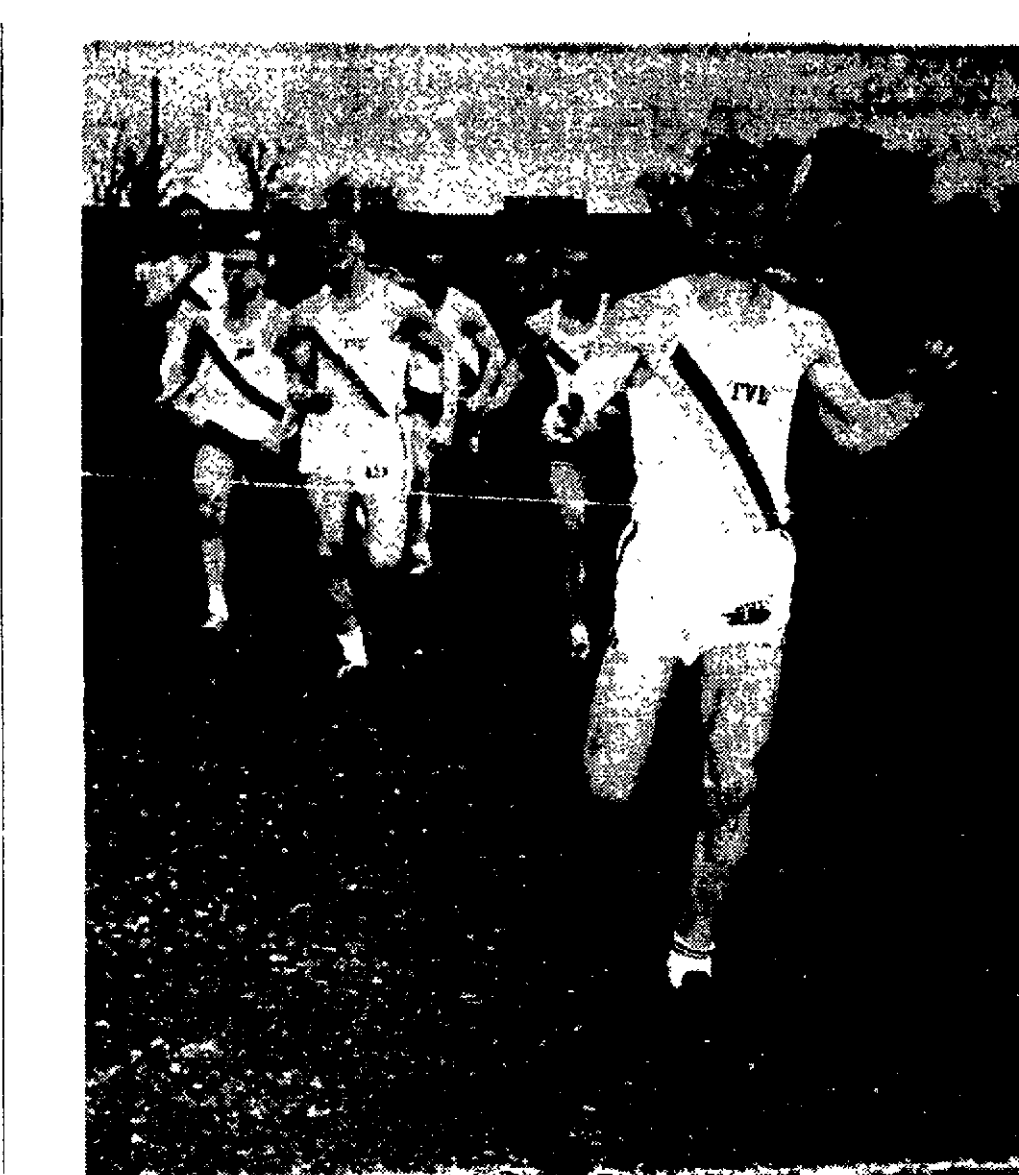

Wilmet was the loser in relief of Garsow. Borowitz accounted for the West DePere runs when he hit a home run over the right field fence with one man on in the fifth.

Wrigley Field Becomes New Homer Haven

22 Blasts Clear Fences in Four Cub Games

BY JOE MOOSHL

CHICAGO (AP) — New York's Polo Grounds with its Chinese homers is no more and the Bamboo Curtain is down in Los Angeles' Coliseum.

All this leaves Chicago's Wrigley Field as the major leagues' lone home run haven unless Charles O. Finley succeeds in retaining his pennant porches in Kansas City.

Four games have been played in Wrigley Field this season and 22 home runs have been blasted out of the park, where stiff breezes from the southwest on warm days keep Old Glory fluttering in centerfield.

In the four games played on their home field, the Cubs have hit 12 home runs while the opposition has clubbed 10. Oddly enough, the Cubs have not benefited from the winds.

The last 10 times they have homered there has been nobody on base. This would seem to be some sort of record. And Tuesday, when the Cubs dropped a 8-5 decision to Pittsburgh, they hit five home runs — all solo shots. This was a major league record held by several clubs in which all of a team's runs were scored on home runs without anyone on base.

What makes things even more fantastic is the fact that in one of these four games only one run was hit — by the Cubs, naturally. That means that 21 were hit in three games, which also should be some sort of unkept record.

Oddly enough the trouble with the Cubs, who have lost four of six games, is not a lack of home runs but a lack of singles.

They have a total of 64 hits but 35 of them have been for extra bases, including 16 home runs and 17 doubles. In the process, 12 of their 16 home runs have come with bases empty.

While the Cubs were outom-

Des Moines Woman Leads In All-Events

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Mrs. Ellen Graybeal of Des Moines, Iowa, took over the all-events lead in the Women's International Bowling Congress Tournament Tuesday.

Mrs. Graybeal posted a nine-game total of 1,839, an average of 204.3 pins a game. Her 266 game Monday—second high in the tournament—helped her Sid Beattie Ford team into first place among the high-average teams.

Mrs. Lena Bloomquist, a teammate on the Des Moines squad, joined with Mrs. Graybeal for a 1,194 pinfall to put them in second place in Division II doubles. Mrs. Bloomquist had 585, Mrs. Graybeal 609.

Ellen's average is 185, Lena's 176. A third member of the same team, Virginia Davis, moved into the top 10 of the all-events with a 1,729.

Another change saw Darlene Swanson of Anoka, Minn., taking over fourth place in Division II singles with a 573.

Exhibits Face Picketing
Farmer led demonstrators in a march from a mid-Manhattan church to Pennsylvania Station where they boarded a Long Island Rail Road train for the fairgrounds to picket certain state and commercial exhibits.

Farmer carried a cattle prod, a battery-powered pole that produces an electric shock when pressed against cattle or people. He also carried a placard that said: "This is a cattle prod used by Louisiana police."

He said CORE members had come from Missouri, Mississippi, Louisiana, Florida and other states.

"I personally am going to demonstrate against the Louisiana pavilion," Farmer said.

Farmer, who was jailed in Louisiana last summer, said he intended only to exhibit the cattle prod and not to use it.

At least 1,000 CORE members had entered the grounds within an hour after the fair opened.

Leaflets handed to the inside demonstrators by CORE leaders admonished them against carrying any sharp instruments, even nail files.

The plan for the stall-in had been for drivers to let their cars run out of gasoline on the fair approaches.

The first to be towed away, however, had two flat tires.

The City Transit Authority posted at least one guard in each subway car to prevent the pulling of emergency cords.

Heavy details of police and two cars were posted at all bridges and tunnels.

robbery on his mobile talkie unit, reported the man heading east on College Avenue.

Vice said he was notified of the service station robbery and the description of the car as he patrolled in Calumet County near the Appleton city limits on S. Oneida Street. He saw the car come from Appleton near Schultz' Trailer Court. Vice said the man was driving "like he owned a halo" and Vice said he would not have stopped him if he had not been alerted to the robbery and the description of the suspect's car.

A license plate check of the car which the man was driving showed the car had been reported stolen from Fond du Lac early Tuesday morning and was owned by Victor Rockweat, 60 South Street, Fond du Lac.

Abandoned Auto
After Vice halted the car and exchanged gunfire with the fleeing man, Vice said he chased him at speeds up to 90 miles an hour until the man abandoned the car. The man left several dollar bills of small denomination on the seat of the car when he fled.

Police fanned through the farm fields about 15 minutes before the three Appleton patrolmen came across him. In the gunfire exchange, the men shot and hit the rear door of the Appleton squad car which the patrolmen had been in.

After the shooting, other police were rushed to the area where the gunfire was heard, but the three Appleton patrolmen had the man in custody. When he surrendered he remarked to police he wished he had brought along a rifle.

The man had no identification when searched at St. Elizabeth Hospital and has refused to answer questions by police.

Johnson requested in his January budget message.

Laird's charge was denied by McNamara in a letter to the Wisconsin congressman last weekend, but Laird said he was not satisfied. He also said he was annoyed because the secretary's letter was delivered to newsmen by Pentagon messengers Saturday while his copy was sent in the regular mail and arrived Monday morning.

Laird said McNamara had mentioned the Minuteman II and Nike X missiles although they were modifications of the Minuteman I and the Nike-Zeus missiles.

"It's like saying that you have a brand new weapons system every time you change the model numbers," Laird said.

He said the Eisenhower administration had developed 47 new aircraft and missile programs during its eight years "but the current administration has started a grand total of seven new programs in the aircraft and missile areas, all of which are non-strategic systems."

Amendment Would Permit School Prayer

Sponsor Hits at 'Cynics Who Would Sever All National Ties to Religion'

BY JOHN BECKLER

WASHINGTON (AP)—A leader in the fight against the Supreme Court's school prayer decision said today "a fraternity of cynics" seeks to sever all national ties to religion.

Rep. Frank J. Becker, R-N.Y., sponsor of a proposed constitutional amendment that would permit prayers and Bible reading in public schools, urged its speedy adoption by Congress.

Becker was the first witness at House Judiciary Committee hearings which he has been demanding ever since the June 1963 court decision outlawing official public school prayers.

60 Congressmen At least 60 members of Congress and about 75 church and public witnesses are expected to testify at the hearings, which probably will last more than a month.

Becker, who has traveled over the country urging support for his proposed amendment, and who helped stir up one of the most massive mail campaigns in its favor ever to hit Capitol Hill, said the issue raised is the most important Congress can face.

"The welfare and the entire future of our beloved America depend upon how we handle the most dynamic tradition in our national life—dependence upon Almighty God," he said in a prepared statement.

Those who pressed the issue that was finally resolved by the Supreme Court, he said, are determined to "create a feeling that a tribute to God in relation to the affairs of our nation is a misdemeanor, if not a crime."

Many church leaders have spoken out in opposition to Becker's proposed amendment.

Becker did not refer to them, but noting the heavy outpouring of mail supporting his position.

He said: "If we ignore the compulsion which comes from the hearts of the people concerning this matter, we will be put in the position of throwing off the switch which connects a central dynamo to the lights of a great nation."

the average or ideal Senate district is 119,780 persons."

"Milwaukee County, containing 1,036,041 people, has 26.2 times the Assembly average."

Reynolds said "gross population disparities" were general in Assembly districting in Milwaukee County and that the Legislature had erred in not forming a new Senate district to include western Milwaukee County and eastern Waukesha County.

Rowboat District
His most severe criticisms were reserved for the proposed alignment in his home area of Brown County.

"In a raw, naked political power play to defeat a Democratic assemblyman in Brown County, the Legislature has created the first rowboat district in the State of Wisconsin," the governor said.

The county's 3rd Assembly District, represented by Cletus VanderPerren, D-Green Bay, would be split in two and "separated by the waters of Green Bay," Reynolds said.

Hits 2nd District Proposed
To stay within his district, the governor said, VanderPerren would have to "row a boat" between the eastern and western sections of his area.

Reynolds also objected to the realignment of the 2nd Senate District, which now consists of all of Brown County.

"The dismembering separates Green Bay from its suburbs," Reynolds said. "It places Green Bay's southeast suburb of Preble in the same district with Crandon, the Forest County seat, which lies 95 miles to the northwest. The city of Green Bay, is placed in the same district with Chilton, the Calumet County seat, which is 35 miles to the South. This dismembering of Green Bay and its suburbs is an incredible partisan gerrymander."

The 2nd District is represented by Sen. Leo O'Brien, R-Green Bay.

Negro Winner in Tennessee Contest

MURFREESBORO, Tenn. (AP)—Robert Scales, a moderate on civil rights, drew votes from both races Tuesday to lead the ticket and win a term on the City Council. Scales is a Negro—the first of his race ever to seek public office in this city.

Scales, an undertaker and owner of two restaurants, drew 1,447 votes to lead the ballot over 14 white men—including 11 running against him—seeking three four-year terms and three seeking the single two-year terms. He carried one predominantly white precinct, as well as the city's largest box—a predominantly Negro precinct.

Before the election there was an undercurrent of talk that Scales had lost support among Negroes because he had spoken out against civil rights demonstrations. He carried 70 per cent of the large Negro precinct.

President Says Peace Prospect Draws Nearer

next World's Fair an America as different from today as we are different from 1939, when New York staged its last fair.

He said they will see America in which no man must be poor, no man is handicapped by the color of his skin, no man will be discriminated against because of his religion or ancestry.

He said they will see an America solving the problems of city crowding, inadequate education, declining national resources, and decreasing national beauty.

"All of these dreams, these hopes, these expectations, depend upon a world free from the threat of war," the President said. "If we can achieve this, then I am sure that speakers at the next World's Fair will look back with amusement at how greatly we underestimated the capacity and genius of man."

38 Million Autos

Johnson emphasized this point by looking backward himself to the 1939 fair. He said a daring exhibition then proclaimed that in the 1960s, it would be possible to cross the country in less than 24 hours, flying as high as 10,000 feet, and that an astounding 38 million cars would cross the highways.

These were bold prophecies, the President said, but reality far outstripped the vision. Twenty-five years ago, he said, there was no mention of outer space, atomic power, or disease destroying wonder drugs.

Turnstiles Busy Early

The turnstiles, 95 of them at eight gateways, began spinning at 8:45 a.m., almost two hours before the official opening program which featured President Johnson.

An 18-year-old St. Peter's College freshman from New Jersey, Bill Turchny of Jersey City, was named the No. 1 fairgoer, leading a throng expected to number half a million before the day is over and 70 million by the time the fair ends its two 180-day runs.

Turchny had waited in line since Monday afternoon.

Exotic exhibits from around the world had transformed the 646-acres of Flushing Meadow marshland into wonderland of fun and fantasy, recreation and reality, past and present and future.

No Stall-in At Maze

The promised stall-in by a faction of the Congress of Racial Equality did not materialize on the complex maze of highways leading to the fair in time to disrupt the opening.

A huge force of police—2,000 city patrolmen and 3,000 private guards in and around the grounds, plus others patrolling highways and subway lines—acted quickly and decisively to thwart any interference.

Former President Harry S. Truman went from Manhattan to Flushing Meadow to take part in the program and former President Dwight D. Eisenhower sent a message to be read.

Other speakers included Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, Mayor Robert F. Wagner and India's Mrs. Indira Gandhi.

Also special on opening day are the premiere performance of Ferde Grofe's "World's Fair Suite," by a full symphony orchestra; presentation of first folders of the World's Fair commemorative stamp by Postmaster General John A. Gronouski; two band concerts, and a parade including Miss America, Miss Universe and Miss USA as well as antique cars, an Alaskan dog team, a stagecoach, folk dancers and innumerable bands.

The official ceremonies center around the huge, hollow-ribbed globe called the Unisphere, the theme structure of the fair.

Spreading out from the Unisphere are landscaped roads to all corners of the mile-square park—with 3,500 benches for the foot-weary.

Spacecraft Exhibit

In a two-acre space park sponsored jointly by government agencies and the fair, tower the biggest collection of spacecraft ever displayed outside Cape Kennedy, Fla.

In the international area, 43 pavilions show everything from Africa's famed Watutsi dancers and drummers to a reproduction of an old Belgian village.

Big Ten Teams Open Baseball Season Friday

No Apparent Favorite for 1964 Crown

CHICAGO (AP)—The Big Ten always an uncertain league opens its conference baseball race Friday with little indication of a favorite.

Practically every team has a chance for the title, according to conference coaches. However, Indiana, Minnesota, Michigan, Michigan State, Purdue and Ohio State fared the best on the spring training circuit.

Indiana piled up a 13-3 record and had a nine-game winning streak which was matched by Minnesota.

Michigan State turned in a 12-3 record while Purdue was 7-2 and Ohio State 10-4. Iowa, an early favorite for the crown, ran into injury troubles and the Hawkeye outlook has been dimmed considerably.

Illinois, the defending champion, must develop a top pitching staff in order to repeat. The Illini appear solid in hitting again with outfielders Rich Callaghan and Ron Mauer leading the way.

Indiana seems to be the club which can win it all. The Hoosiers boast pitching, power and defense off their spring showing.

Iowa, graced with pitching, hitting and fielding, has had injuries. The Hawkeyes have developed enough problems so that they no longer can be considered for the title.

Rebuilding

Michigan is rebuilding. The Wolverines are led by Ron Tate in hitting but have little more to offer. They lack pitching and defense.

Michigan State has powerful hitting but little pitching and defense. Outfielder Joe Porreco and first baseman Jerry Sutton still carry big sticks but problems will develop after these two finish batting.

Minnesota is a developing club. The Gophers keep getting better and are paced by Dave Hoffman and Bill Davis in hitting. Frank Brosseau, a good hitter, could be the top pitcher. Dick Mielke also has looked good on the mound.

Northwestern has a solid club but lacks depth. Bill Davidson is club's top spring hitter and Gene Abraham and Jim Bland were among leading pitchers.

Arnie Chonko is back with Ohio State and the Buckeyes figure to have a stronger team than last year. Ken Hay, John Durant and Bill Gable figure to lead the pitching staff.

Purdue will bank on pitching and defense. Bob Purkhiser leads the pitching staff and third baseman Dick Lui topped all hitters in spring training where the Boilermakers won seven of their first nine games.

Wisconsin is a sophomore team. Except for Rick Reichardt, the Badgers have little to offer. Reichardt is the club's top hitter.

Chilton took eight firsts to seven for Hilbert, but the Tigers racked up points with the second and third places.

Harry Smith Leads Field in ABC 'Masters'

Defending Champ Nips Dick Weber; Welu Advances

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP)—Defending champion Harry Smith of Baltimore led a quartet of stars into the winner's bracket semifinals of the American Bowling Congress Masters Tournament Tuesday.

Others who racked up their fourth straight victory Tuesday were Billy Welu and Glenn Allison of St. Louis and Norm Myers of Los Angeles.

Smith, Welu and Allison were teammates a few weeks ago on the Falstaffs of St. Louis and worked together to shatter the ABC classic team record with a 6417 six-game total.

By a coincidence Myers, the fourth man to advance to the winner's bracket semifinals, was also a Falstaff bowler four years ago.

Smith had a tough time winning his fourth match from Dick Weber of St. Louis. Weber, 1963 bowler of the year, rallied in the final game to win it 237-214 but Smith's early bulge gave him an 819-809 victory.

Fantastic Average

Welu, bowling at a fantastic 233 pins per game average, slowed down Tuesday but had enough kick left to trim Joe Joseph of Lansing, Mich. 873-839.

This ended Welu's string of series-over-900 at three.

Allison fired a 714 in his first three games and coasted in to edge Pete Tountas of Chicago 888-846. Despite his loss Tountas established a Masters record with a string of 14 straight series-over-800. The Chicago area star rolled 10 straight sets over 800 last year in Buffalo as he finished fourth and opened the 1964 Masters with four more.

Don Carter, another St. Louis great, kept his hopes alive by winning a pair of clutch matches in the loser's bracket of the double elimination Masters.

He first had to take a roll-off single game from Ed Lubanski of Detroit after the two had tied, 794-794, in their four-game session. Carter then won the extra game, 225-199. Carter came right back to edge Joe Kristof of Columbus, Ohio, 858-851. Kristof closed out with seven strikes and almost caught Carter.

Red Sox Put Gene Conley On Waivers

BALTIMORE (AP)—Gene Conley, the longtime multiple job major leaguer, is unemployed.

The Boston Red Sox have waived for $1 the 6-foot-8 giant with an ailing pitching arm and an estimated $28,000 price tag.

"Conley no longer figures in our pitching plans," Manager Johnny Pesky said Tuesday night in making the announcement. "We are going with the younger pitchers. Conley said his arm was okay but we knew it wasn't."

"I still think I can do some club a lot of good," Conley said from his Foxboro, Mass., home in obvious disappointment. "I am not ready to quit yet."

SPORTSMAN'S DIGEST

Wings Take 3-2 Lead in Cup Finals

TORONTO (AP)—Manager-Coch Sid Abel expressed new confidence that his Detroit Red Wings would go all the way after scoring a 2-1 victory over Toronto in the National Hockey League Stanley Cup playoff finals Tuesday night.

The triumph gave the Red Wings a 3-2 edge in the best-of-seven series which returns to Detroit Thursday night. A seventh and deciding game, if necessary, will be played at Toronto on Saturday night.

"For perhaps the first time in the series I feel really confident we can take them," Abel said. "We came out last in the first period and beat them to the puck all the way except for the final period."

The eventual winning goal was scored early in the third period by Eddie Joyal. He took a perfect pass from Andre Pronovost and rammed the puck through Toronto goalie Johnny Bower's legs.

Oneida Indians Receiving Calico Treaty Checks

ONEIDA — Checks of $4.17 each are being mailed to 5,800 members of the Oneida Indian Tribe of Wisconsin under terms of a 1794 treaty with the United States Government.

The checks represent payments accumulated since 1951 and due to the Indians under terms of the "Calico Treaty" recognizing the Oneidas for their aid to Gen. George Washington's army during the Revolutionary War in upstate New York.

Payment originally was made in bolts of calico cloth, but now is about $1,800 annually, the annual payments have accumulated in the U. S. treasury since 1951 when the government declined to issue the small annual checks and the Indian tribe refused to accept a lump sum annual payment.

Plass Registers 553 To Lead Pin Loop

DON PLASS fashioned a 553 series for the top effort in the final night of action in the Beer Couples Bowling loop at the 41 Bowl.

Hamm's won the team title, with a 33-18 slate.

Big Question Is Necessity Of Strong Czar

BY WILL GRIMSLEY
PALM BEACH GARDENS, Fla. (AP)—Does professional golf need a czar?

Many of the tournament players, including Arnold Palmer, insist that it does. Warren Cantrell, newly elected president of the Professional Golfers Association, argues not.

Almost all, players and executives alike, agree there is need for administrative revision, a stronger, firmer hand in the guiding of the game's destinies.

"We simply have grown too fast," says Cantrell, a Texas businessman. "We've rocked along and looked up suddenly to find ourselves surrounded with a multimillion-dollar enterprise."

"To keep pace, we need to adopt modern business methods."

The PGA, with a membership of more than 5,000 teaching and touring pros, moves into its new $4-million headquarters on this Florida gold coast within the next few weeks, plagued by numerous problems.

Some quibbling

There is still some quibbling about how to pay for the $1.5-million brick and glass clubhouse which sits astride two 18-hole championship courses.

Sponsors and players are involved in a bitter dispute over who should control the mushrooming television monies.

The $2.5-million tour is getting so crowded that there are suggestions that it must be broken into two circuits, a major and minor league.

There is some agitation — quite minor at this stage — for making the tour a self-supporting project, free from PGA control.

At the moment, the biggest question involves that of a czar or a strong single executive to run the whole show.

"We need a man like the late Kennesaw Mountain Landis in baseball," says Dow Finsterwald. "He should be a man with a knowledge of all phases of the game and with unquestioned integrity."

Palmer Agrees

Palmer, the sport's all-time leading money winner, agrees. "I would like to see a fellow like Joe Dey (executive director of the U. S. Golf Association) take over," Arnie says. "We players are not in a position to govern ourselves."

The PGA policies are made by an executive committee composed of officers. Problems relating to the tour are handled by a committee of executives and players. Jay Hebert currently is chairman of the players' committee which also includes Dave Marr, Johnny Pott and Bob Goalby.

"Players shouldn't be allowed to make important decisions," says Paul Harney. "Their role should be in an advisory capacity strictly."

Next: The tour—too big?

KAUKAUNA — The common council Tuesday night approved a resolution designating May 2 as "Art Schmalz Day" in Kaukauna.

The resolution pays tribute to Schmalz for his work as a public official in many capacities, his charitable projects, his interest in education — particularly noting his 34 years as a member of the vocational school board — and his devotion to public service which has earned him a "community thank you."

A testimonial honoring Schmalz is scheduled May 2 in the student commons at the high school.

Sherman High On Griffing

Sees Glynn as Quarterback of Future for Giants

BY JACK HAND

NEW YORK (AP)—Allie Sherman considers Glynn Griffing the quarterback of the future for the New York Giants. But he doesn't know just when.

"Griffing came on fast as a rookie," the National Football League coach said Tuesday. "I think he is going to do it. I don't know exactly when. It could be that he is ready right now. I feel good about Griffing. It is just a matter of timing."

"Last year we got by with only two quarterbacks. You held your breath once in a while when Y. A. (Tittle) got knocked down. Most of the clubs went with only two quarterbacks because of the 37-player limit. With the new 40-player limit I believe we should look toward carrying three quarterbacks."

"It is a lot to ask for one man," Sherman, who will be shooting for his fourth straight Eastern Conference title, said he planned to use Griffing much more than he did last year.

"He'll be with us right from the start, instead of missing three weeks with the All-Star team," said Sherman. "In fact, he will be at our rookie camp at Fairfield, Conn. I may call Griffing and Schichle up here to talk for a few days in June."

Sherman also has heard good reports on Gary Wood, the former Cornell quarterback. Examination of the films has given Sherman added respect for Wood's position at the start will be as a defensive back and possibly a punt return man with Dick James, recent acquisition from Washington.

Urges Sports to Adapt To Television's Needs

Pros, Executives Agree

ABC's Moore Picks Baseball As Chief Target

HOLLYWOOD, Calif. (AP)—The time has come for sports to adapt themselves to the television era and to change their traditional patterns and schedules to the needs of television.

That opinion was advanced Monday by Thomas W. Moore, president of the ABC television network, in a talk before the Hollywood Advertising Club.

Among the changes in traditional patterns proposed by Moore were:

1. Major league baseball should be limited to a 60-game schedule, playing games only on Saturdays and Sundays. The season should end the first week in September to avoid overlapping the football season.

2. Championship playoff between the National and American League champions.

3. College football should substitute playoffs for a national championship for the traditional bowl games. The bowls might be used at sites for elimination games leading up to a single national title game New Year's day.

4. Golf should institute a point system for ranking players on the pro tour so that an undisputed champion could be established after one or two climactic tournaments in late summer.

5. The United States should have a year-round program of regional Olympics meets and one annual American Olympic event. This would become the foundation in competition and fund-raising for the quadrennial Olympic effort.

6. Hockey and automobile racing should establish schedules better adapted to television coverage.

Illinois, UW Cagers Meet in Pre-Holiday Tilt

CHICAGO (AP)—Illinois and Wisconsin will meet at Champaign on Tuesday, Dec. 15 in the first Big Ten Conference basketball game played prior to Christmas since the 1952-53 season.

Big Ten Commissioner Bill Reed explained Tuesday that because the first Saturday and Monday in the 1965 calendar are in the New Year weekend only 15 dates for 14 conference games were available for Illinois.

"The hind comes with semester schools which must block out dates in January for exams," Reed said. "In addition to Wisconsin and Illinois, Indiana and Iowa also are semester schools, but they were able to work out a schedule without playing a conference game prior to Christmas."

Reed also said that schools are on their own in scheduling Saturday and Tuesday conference games rather than the usual pattern of playing Saturdays and Mondays. Illinois opposes the Saturday-Monday night games scheduled by the Illini for next season.

By Sylvanus M. Duvall, Ph.D. and Evelyn M. Duvall, Ph.D.

FAT PEOPLE ARE USUALLY JOLLY PEOPLE!

TRUE ☐ FALSE ☐

True, say some. They have to be because they can neither fight nor run. In many cases, however, the jollity is faked. They are trying to make the best of, and cover up, a distressing situation. Fat people, like everyone else, need real friends—people who won't merely laugh at them or even with them, but who will treat them with consideration and respect. They need real friends, who will take them seriously, and not merely in fun. The "jolly" person is often lonely and heart-hungry.

Girls should be educated for family living.

Farmer Jones had a certain number of eggs. His sales to three customers one day figured out this way: To his first customer he sold 1/2 the eggs he began with plus 1/2 an egg. To his second customer he sold 1/2 the eggs he had remaining plus 1/2 an egg. And to his third customer he sold 1/2 the eggs he then had remaining plus 1/2 an egg. At no time did he break any eggs. If after three sales Farmer Jones had 12 eggs remaining, how many eggs did he have originally?

Answer

103 eggs. Since he had to add 1/2 to each total after dividing the original number by 2, 4, and 8, then we add 1 to X (his original number of eggs), and form equation: (X plus 1) over 2 plus (X plus 1) over 4 plus (X plus 1) over 8 equals X minus 12. Solve.

Minnesingers to Give 'Requiem' at DePere

Lawrence Conservatory Teachers to Assist Fox Cities Choral Chamber Group

A performance of Faure's Requiem will be given by the Minnesingers, a choral chamber group directed by Dr. Marshall B. Hulbert, vice-president of Lawrence College, at 3:30 p.m. Sunday, at the St. Norbert Abbey in DePere.

Mrs. Duncan

The 22-voice chorus, made up of residents of Appleton, Neenah and Menasha, will be assisted by three faculty members from Lawrence Conservatory of Music, Mari Taniguchi, soprano, and John Koopman, baritone, will sing and Miriam Clapp Duncan, lecturer in organ and harpsichord at Lawrence, is the accompanist.

Now in their third season, the Minnesingers have appeared in concert and oratorio in the Fox Cities and Ripon, and have done several television performances for Green Bay stations.

Preceding the 35-minute Requiem, the Minnesingers will offer two anthems, a Rouen church melody arranged by Alanson G. Y. Brown, titled "Only Begotten Word of God Eternal," and John Ireland's "Greater Love Hath No Man."

The Requiem is one of the best known works of Gabriel Faure, 1845-1924, one of the major figures in the modern French school and a pupil of Cesar Franck. Faure was particularly noted as a writer of songs and chamber music compositions.

It has been said that Faure represented the spirit of Hellenism in the 20th century, for he was one of the first French composers to return to the ancient Greek scales.

Miss Taniguchi, soprano soloist in the Requiem, was trained at the Eastman School of Music. She was one of the leading sopranos in Robert Shaw's Collegiate Choral and his smaller recording chorus, and also spent nine years in Italy, initially on a Fulbright fellowship.

Miss Taniguchi

In Italy, she made her operatic debut as Madame Butterfly with the Turin Opera and sang with companies in Rome, Mestre and Malta. She also did several concerts of contemporary music in Switzerland. Prior to her Lawrence appointment in 1961, Miss Taniguchi taught at Potsdam State University College in New York.

Koopman, who came to Lawrence from Bethany College in Kansas in 1960, was trained at Drake University, and is now studying toward his doctorate at Indiana University. He has sung dozens of operatic roles with workshops in both of the latter institutions, specializing in buffo parts.

Koopman

He now directs the Lawrence Opera Workshop as well as an Appleton civic group, The Occasional Opera Company, with which he recently sang a lead in "The Abduction from the Seraglio."

Dr. Hulbert holds undergraduate degrees in music and in history from Lawrence, a master degree from Columbia University and his Ph.D. from Northwestern in education.

He has had a long administrative career at Lawrence and has taught voice, history, edu-

Kentucky County Needs Law More Than Order

SANDY HOOK, Ky. (AP) — Elliott County expects to have a courthouse by the summer of 1964, its first in 6 1/2 years.

Fire destroyed the courthouse and jail at Sandy Hook late in 1957.

While county officials moved into temporary quarters, a good part of the insurance collected on the property was used to build a new jail.

A $100,000 bond issue was voted and finally approved in a court test. The county had to wait, though, for a $102,000 federal grant before it was ready to start a new courthouse.

Elliott County is in mountainous Eastern Kentucky, 175 miles east of Louisville.

Rain Could Spoil Fair Start Show

BY TV SCOUT

6:30-8 (Channel 4-5)—Tonight is the opening night at the New York World's Fair, so there is a special about it, imaginatively entitled Opening Night at the World's Fair. You'll get a 90-minute tour. Henry Fonda is the host; his sections of the program are live (if it rains, they'll kill themselves) For the main divisions of the Fair, other hosts will take over on tape and film. (Color)

6:30-7, (Channel 2)—Chronicle meets the Fair competition with a millionaire. "Huntington Hartford: The Reluctant Millionaire" is a candid portrait of Hartford and his milieu.

7-7:30 (Channel 11)—The Patty Duke show might have done a major service but fails. The plot involves a high school dropout, and the script flirts with this major problem. But it abandons it for a silly comedy.

8-9, (Channel 11)—Boy, have they got problems on Ben Casey. There are two priests—one has athromia plaque and the other has a massive coronary occlusion. Then there is a young man who has been beaten severely; he also suffers from atheism. But it is this boy's secret bride who is in real medical trouble.

8:30-9, (Channel 2)—The Dick Van Dyke Show has moderate fun with its story of Rob (Dick) and Laura (Mary Tyler Moore) catching married neighbor Jerry Paris) taking a blonde out to dinner.

9-10, (Channel 2)—The Danny Kaye Show was complicated by Danny's injury—his foot was burned by scalding water—which necessitated changes in this show. He dropped out of one skit, and Howard Morris now plays the man who takes his wife to a fancy restaurant where Vincent Price is a haughty head waiter. Danny does do a skit with Price, as two men who see different things in a very modern painting.

9-10 (Channel 4-5)—The Eleventh Hour is an odd and not particularly satisfying story about a Communist who has just been released from prison. Now he suffers a variety of psychosomatic ailments and Dr. Starke (Ralph Bellamy) thinks these stem from his inner doubts about his political beliefs.

St. Norbert Band Concert to Feature 3 Faculty Members

DE PERE — A program combining the talents of three St. Norbert faculty members will highlight the spring concert of the college's concert band Sunday evening.

The concert will be at 8:15 p.m. in the Hall of Fine Arts auditorium. No admission will be charged and the public is invited to attend.

Music department faculty members taking part are Gerald Mattern, Dr. Joseph Cohen and Paul Reed.

Mattern is band director at St. Norbert. Reed, artist-in-residence on the De Pere campus, will be the featured piano soloist. Cohen rescored the orchestra music for band for the second portion of the evening's program.

That portion will be Serge Prokofiev's Concerto No. 1. Reed will be the featured soloist for the Prokofiev work, marking the first such solo appearance he has made with the concert band at St. Norbert.

Odd Size Land Tracts for Sale In Oklahoma

GUYPON, Okla. (AP)—Need a farm 37 feet wide and 1½ miles long? Or perhaps 20 feet wide and a half-mile long? These odd-shaped pieces of land—as well as regular tracts—in three Oklahoma Panhandle counties will be auctioned next month, the Bureau of Land Management said Tuesday. The land, amounting to 4,032 acres, is valued at $70,405. The federal government still holds the land because it was never taken by a homesteader, or because it was lost in old surveying errors. Peter Gutierrez, chief of the land section of the U.S. Land Office, Santa Fe, N.M., said main value of the land is to adjacent property owners who will get preferential treatment in acquiring the property, if they desire.

Insurance Proposed For Customers of Stock Exchange

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York Stock Exchange today announced a proposal for providing up to $25 million to aid customers in case a member firm goes under the way Ira Haupt & Co. did last year. The proposal calls for building up a $10-million primary fund over a period of five years to be supplemented by a $15-million indemnity bond or stand-by credit, said the exchange president, Keith Funston. Final details and a vote of the membership are required before the proposal would take effect. The Board of Governors has approved the general approach, the exchange said. Ira Haupt, an old-line brokerage firm, was swept under by the court-aided demise of Allied Crude Vegetable Oil Refining Corp. last fall. The exchange provided $9,500,000 to aid Haupt customers at

Beware of Gypsters At New York's Fair

BY SYLVIA PORTER

Despite unprecedented precautions being taken by the New York World's Fair authorities and despite unparalleled security measures to be enforced by an army of Pinkerton guards, when you go to the Fair, which opens today, you must be alert to a variety of gypsters and peddlers of phony merchandise.

Porter

Almost surely the swindlers will be few and scattered, but some will slip in. As a spokesman for the National Better Business Bureau puts it, "When ever you have a big fair at what your tour covers and tracting millions of out-of-town-doesn't cover. Misuse of 'Unisphere' symbol to promote phony 'causes.' As just one example out of the recent past, the Seattle BBB received more than 800 complaints during the 1962 Seat-the World's Fair about merchandise undelivered by concessionaires—goods visitors had ordered, had paid for and had requested delivered to their homes. The stuff never came.

Based on previous Fair experiences, here are traps to watch for when you visit New York's extravaganza — and here's how to side-step them. Incomplete "package tours" offered by local travel agencies. The tour may be advertised as "complete—everything included," but you may discover it's far, far from that. Your best bet is to deal with a member of the respected American Society of Travel Agents. In any case, find out in advance just what your tour covers and what your tour covers and what your tour covers.

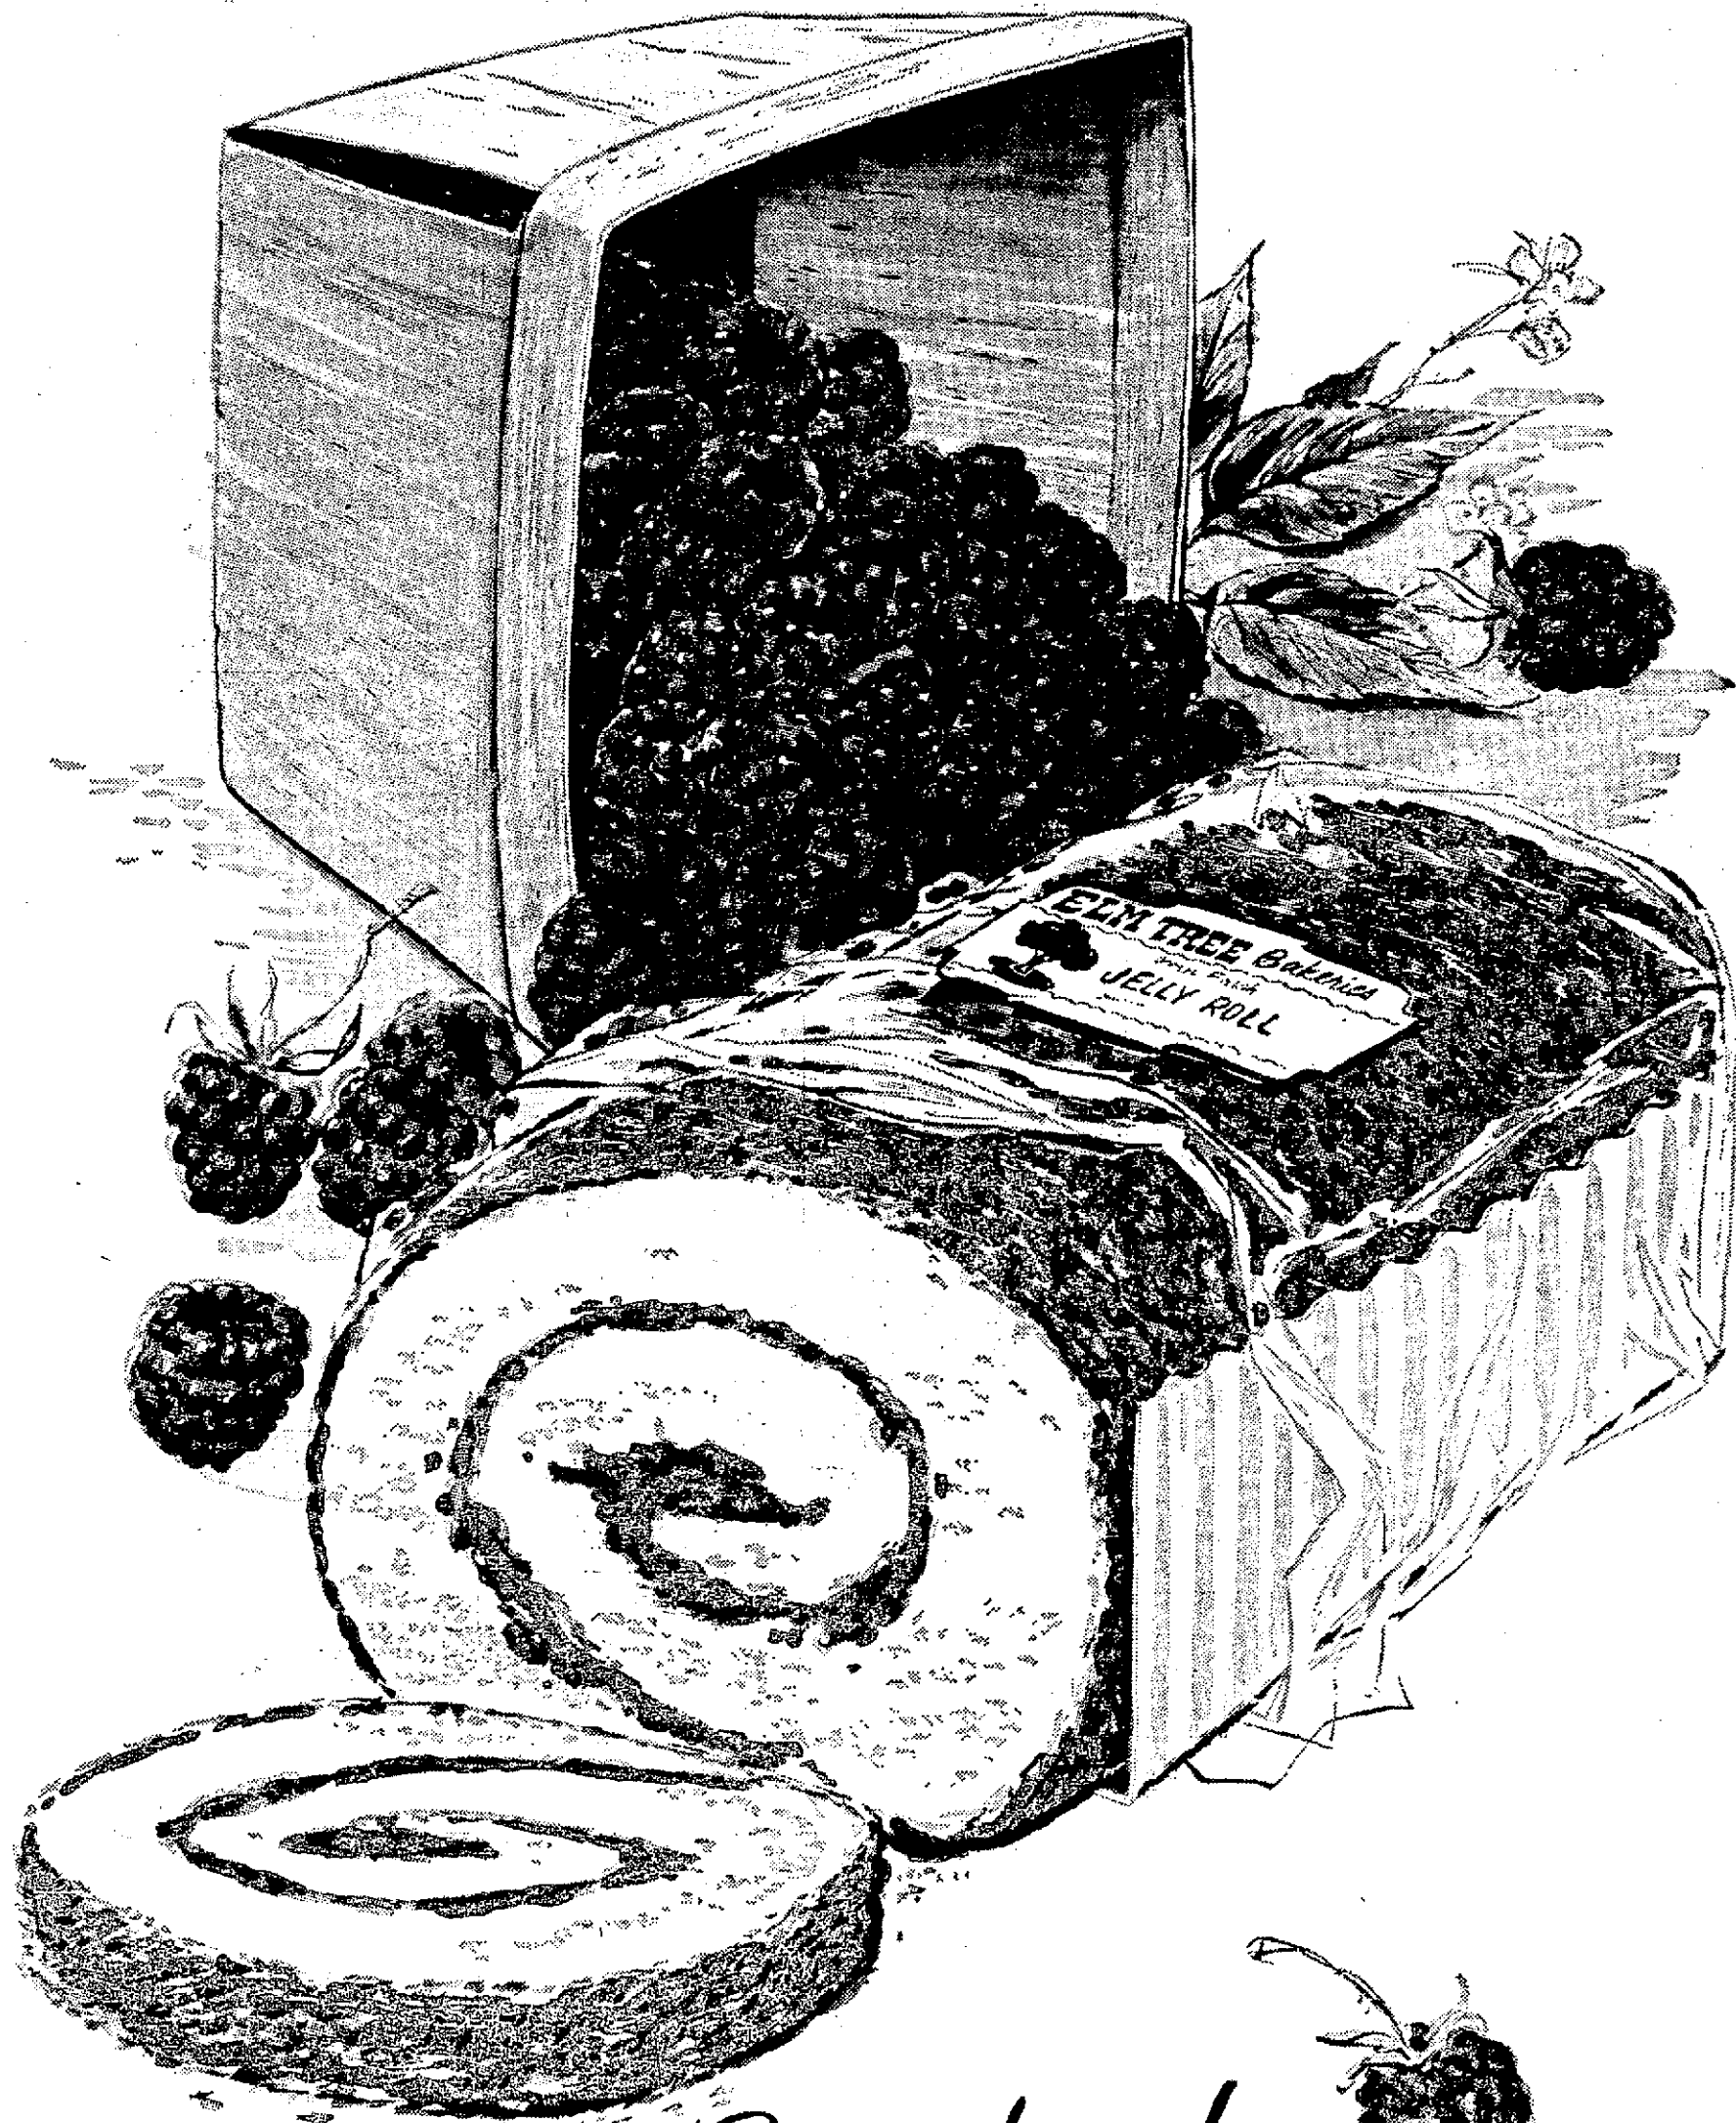

Unisphere symbol—and use of the copyrighted symbol may not have been authorized by the World's Fair authorities. Under a 11 vered merchandise from concessionaires. This would include many varieties of souvenirs, color slides, even sweaters, jewelry, perfume. The rule here is not to pay cash for any order to be shipped. Pay by check or have the order shipped C.O.D. and get a receipt for your purchase with the name and address of the seller.

Fraudulent merchandise. Phony items. Inevitably, phony items will be peddled on street corners at the fringes of the Fair. A typical gimmick would be an offer of a "$50" watch for "only $12.50" (actual worth $3). Common sense is your guide here; street corner peddlers are among the least reliable sources of quality products. Pickpockets. These crooks thrive wherever crowds gather. Again, common sense warns you not to carry large amounts of cash or other valuables to the Fair. Overpriced hotel accommodations and overbooking. This is a perennial problem, although a special World's Fair Housing Bureau has been set up to put visitors in touch with reliable hotels and most of New York's hotels have agreed to maintain standard rates and to provide detailed information on accommodations upon request. For your own protection, though, strictly observe hotel check-in rules.

Pinkerton Guards. The indications are swindlers will be held to a minimum at this Fair. Main reason: the World's Fair security program, handled by Pinkerton's National Detective Agency, is the biggest protective project ever undertaken by any private agency. Among the services being provided: Three thousand Pinkerton guards to staff the Fair's police, fire and medical departments, to handle admission tickets, bus and car parking, protect exhibitors' property and control crowds: Identification of the Fair's 30,000 workers—each of whom will carry a specially-coded pass by which to identify himself; Automatic fire and police alarm systems linked to a central Pinkerton communications panel, plus police walkie-talkies throughout the Fair grounds; Special "mixie lights" to locate emergencies instantly for the central communications dispatcher. In sum, as millions of us surge to this Fair from every part of the globe, we should be the best-protected crowd in history. But use your head: inevitably, the gypsters will be there too with their consumer traps. If you're on guard, you can side-step them. Tomorrow: Wig Rackets (copyright, 1964)

World's Fair Opens In Spite of Clashes

Envisions Better World by the Time Of Another Fair

NEW YORK (AP)—President Johnson turned prophet today at the opening of the New York World's Fair and said that peace not only is possible but coming nearer, with all this means for the dreams and hopes of mankind.

The President said that the final direction of the nation's progress can be toward "abundance or annihilation—development or desolation"—and this is in the hands of the people of the world.

In an address prepared for delivery in Singer Bowl at the fair, Johnson said this vast festival represents the most promising of our hopes.

World's Progress
"It gathers together, from 80 countries, the achievements of industry, the wealth of nations, the creations of man. This fair shows us what man—at his most creative and constructive—is capable of," Johnson said.

"But unless we can achieve the theme of this fair—Peace Through Understanding"—unless we can use our skill and wisdom to conquer conflict as we have conquered science—then our hopes of today—those proud achievements—will go under the devastation of tomorrow.

"I prophesy peace is not only possible. I predict it is coming nearer."

Southerners Ask For Jury Trials in Contempt Cases

WASHINGTON (AP)—In a surprise move, Southern senators battling the House-passed civil rights bill have called up an amendment to provide for jury trials in criminal contempt-of-court cases.

With the Senate debate now in its 37th day, this maneuver could throw out of kilter the plans of Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois to bring up Thursday the first of 11 amendments he has offered to the anti-job-discrimination section of the measure.

However, Sen. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., leader of the Dixie forces, indicated they probably would not object to letting the Senate act first on the Dirksen amendments.

One immediate, tactical benefit for the Dixie forces was to clear the way for them to make a new round of speeches without running afoul of the Senate's two-speech rule.

Cruiser With Four Aboard Is Sought By Coast Guard

CHARLEVOIX, Mich. (AP)—A 27-foot pleasure cruiser known to have at least four persons aboard was the object today of an air-sea search in northern Lake Michigan, the Coast Guard here reported.

The craft departed Tuesday morning from Traverse City, Mich., bound for Marinette, Wis., on Green Bay It was due to arrive Tuesday evening, the Coast Guard said, but has not been reported.

Authorities said the craft was operated by Ole Christenson Jr., with his wife and another couple as passengers. Christenson's mother in Chicago, owner of the craft, said her son was to have telephoned her upon arrival at Marinette but has failed to make contact, according to the Coast Guard.

Violence Starts in Subway Station as Demonstrators Make Attempt to Halt Trains

BY JAMES DEVLIN

NEW YORK (AP)—There were some clashes between police and civil rights demonstrators today but the World's Fair opened on schedule.

There had been threats that the fair opening would be disrupted by civil rights groups.

Violence broke out in a Queens subway station where some demonstrators jumped to the tracks in the city's first subway lie-in.

Twenty-five persons, some with blood streaming from heads and faces from wounds suffered in the fight with police, had been arrested by the time the fair opened.

Emergency Cord Pulled
The subway incident started when someone pulled an emergency cord that brought a train to a jarring halt.

Some demonstrators aboard the train leaped to the tracks while others tried to obstruct doors of the train.

Three white women were among those arrested. They chanted "Freedom now" and

LaFave Deserts GOP to Kill Districting Measure

BY HARVEY BREUSCHER

MADISON (AP)—The Republican-controlled Senate failed by a single vote today to override Democratic Gov. John W. Reynolds' veto of a GOP-sponsored reapportionment bill.

Sen. Reuben LaFave of Oconto strayed from the GOP majority to defeat his party's attempt to make the legislative reapportionment law without the governor's signature.

LaFave's switch brought the roll call vote to 21-12. Republicans control the Senate 22-11 and when party lines hold, have no trouble gaining a two-thirds majority.

Reynolds announced his veto Tuesday night, calling the plan to realign state Senate and Assembly districts "a fraud upon the people." He said it violates "every principle of equal voting rights protected by the Wisconsin Constitution."

Sen. Jerris Leonard, R-Milwaukee, who introduced the bill and helped guide it through the Legislature, said, "The governor has vetoed a bill which would make Wisconsin the best apportioned state in the United States."

Leonard also said, "Any technical errors in this bill can easily be rectified by a revisers bill which is standard procedure in this Legislature."

Veto Likely to Stand

Some Republicans have spoken of attempts to override the veto, but Assembly minority floorleader Robert Huber, D-West Allis, said he was confident the veto would stand.

Any attempts to override the veto, revise the plan or pass a new one must be completed by the May 1 deadline set by the Supreme Court. In a winter rule-ing, the court said that unless the lawmakers and the governor got together on a reapportionment bill by that date, the court would take over and do the job by May 15.

"The right to equal representation is not negotiable," the governor said in a seven-page veto message in which he listed a half dozen objections to the bill.

Milwaukee Seat Issue
Chief among them was the provision that gives Milwaukee County only one more Assembly seat, raising its total to 25.

Reynolds had said he would veto any plan that did not give the county 25 seats.

The governor said that based on the 1960 census, "the average or ideal Assembly district has a population of 99,528 persons, and

Souvanna to Head Coalition Regime in Laos

All Factions to be Included, Rightist Junta Leader Says

BY DON HUTH

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP)—A spokesman for the rightist junta declared today the aim is to form a new unit government of all factions, and neutralist premier Prince Souvanna Phouma will be asked to head it.

Col. Etam Singvongsa, the spokesman, was acutely aware of the threat of a withdrawal of U.S. aid unless the leaders of Sunday's coup restore Souvanna.

Etam said the junta is urging Souvanna to resign and then form a new government, although he did not explain how such a new coalition would differ much from the old one.

Urges Need for Unity
"We must have unification of the three rightist, neutralist and pro-Communist Pathet Lao armies and a strong government within the framework of the 1962 Geneva agreements," Etam said.

Also in Luang Prabang were U. S., British, French, Soviet, Australia and India diplomats, who have been trying to get the leaders to call off their coup and restore the status quo.

The United States fears the coup, assailed violently in Red Chinese broadcasts, will spur the Pathet Lao to resume its drive to take over this Asian kingdom. Laos presumably was withdrawn from the cold war arena by the 1962 Geneva convention setting it up as a neutral nation.

Progress Hailed During Rail Talks

WASHINGTON (AP)—Differences were reported narrowing today as negotiators bargained toe-to-toe with less than 72 hours remaining before the delayed deadline for a nationwide railroad strike.

Representatives of five unions and nearly 200 railroads were closely examining each other's proposals "decimal point by decimal point," said White House press secretary George Reedy.

President Johnson voiced hope again Tuesday that the two sides in the five-year-old work-rules dispute would come up with a voluntary settlement before Saturday's scheduled 12:01 a.m. strike deadline.

Officers From 4 Counties Take Part in Hunt Where Suspect Abandoned Auto

BY RAY PY
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

A fleeing gunman who is believed to have held up an Appleton service station and fired five shots at a Calumet County traffic patrolman then traded shots with Appleton police in a field near Hilbert is in St. Elizabeth Hospital with wounds he received in the gunfire exchange early this morning.

Appleton police said the man has refused to identify himself and carried no identification. Although he is not believed seriously wounded, he was hit at least three times with revolver fire and a shotgun blast.

The shooting came after Calumet County Traffic Patrolman Irvin Vice halted a blue convertible which he saw leaving the Appleton city limits on S. Oneida Street about 1 a.m. Vice said the man got out of his car and asked "what's the matter, officer?"

When Vice opened his squad car door, the man raised a pistol and fired at least five times in Vice's direction. One of the shells hit the squad car door.

Gunman Drives Away

Vice pulled his revolver and returned the fire, hitting the man at least once, grazing him in the head. The man slumped into the car. Vice said, but quickly scrambled into the front seat of the car and drove away. Vice fired his last shell into the rear car window and struck the man in the back, he said.

The car continued to State 114 and turned east to within 200 yards of the intersection of State 55. Vice said the car then veered off the roadway and into a ditch and the man leaped from the car and ran into a nearby field.

Police from Calumet, Winnebago, Fond du Lac counties and other local agencies were rushed to the scene to search for the man in the fields near where he had abandoned his car.

Taken to Hospital
Three Appleton patrolmen, Roland Recker, Rodney Helms and William Steward came across the man hiding in grass about 200 yards from the Swedersky Road and in an exchange of gunfire, Steward hit the man with a shotgun blast. The man dropped his .38 caliber pistol, surrendered and was rushed to St. Elizabeth Hospital for treatment of his wounds.

The man is believed to be the same person who entered the Consolidated Gasoline Service Station, 224 N. Richmond St. about 1 a.m. and held a pistol on William Parent, 820 W. Packard St., as Parent counted netty cash. The man ordered Parent to put the cash box on the desk. Then the man scooped out the paper cash and a handful of silver dollars, Parent said, then left the station after warning Parent not to notify police for five minutes. The man is

The bill would provide $11.3 billion for the Army, $14.3 billion for the Navy, $18.5 billion for the Air Force, and $2.7 billion for defense agencies.

Meet at Crossing Point

Britain, Soviet Union Swap 2 Men They Jailed as Spies

BY JOHN O. KOEHLER

BERLIN (AP)—Britain exchanged Soviet spy Gordon Lonsdale today for British businessman Maynard Greville Wynne, jailed by the Soviets as a courier of espionage information.

The British Foreign Office said it agreed to the exchange because Wynne was ill.

Swap at Crossing Point
The exchange was made at the Heerstrasse crossing point between the British sector of West Berlin and East Germany at 5:35 a.m. and took just over 20 minutes.

Informants in London said Wynne was flown from Moscow to East Berlin. They said Lonsdale was taken from prison in Birmingham and flown to the British air force base at Gatow about five miles from the border point where the exchange was made.

Wynne, 45, was sentenced in Moscow last May to eight years' detention—three in prison and five in a labor camp.

Lonsdale, 40, was sentenced to 25 years imprisonment in 1961

as the mastermind of a spy ring operating at the Portland naval research establishment.

Wynne's wife, Sheila, denied that he was ill.

"He may be half the size he was when he started his sentence, but he's in splendid form" she said at her London home.

Wynne Lonsdale

A family friend said Wynne was expected to arrive at his home this afternoon.

The Foreign Office said the Soviet Union proposed on April 7 to pardon Wynne if the British would free Lonsdale.

Wynne was on a business trip in Budapest in November 1962 when he was arrested by Hungarian secret police. He was tried in Moscow with Oleg Penkovsky, a Soviet official charged with selling atomic secrets to the West. Penkovsky was executed.

Wynne testified before the Soviet military court that the British intelligence service had duped him into serving as a courier. He said that for six months he never knew what was in the packages he gave to and received from Penkovsky.

U. S. Pair Convicted
Testimony at Lonsdale's trial revealed that he had penetrated the British underwater naval research plant at Portland.

Convicted with him were two Americans, Peter Kroger, 50, and his wife, Helen, 47. They were later identified as Morris and Lona Cohen.

The Cohens, who operated a powerful shortwave radio station for Soviet intelligence, were sentenced to 20 years each.

Critical China Food Problem Is Improved

Grain Imported By Nation's Rise Still Is Exported

BY GEOGGREY HO
HONG KONG (AP) — The once critical food situation in Communist China appears to have improved slightly but it remains a riddle to the outside world.

Rosy Picture

Official Chinese Communist statements, accounts given by refugees from Red China and facts generally known are sometimes diametrically contradictory.

The Chinese Communist press has painted a rosy picture about food production yet no general increase in food rations has been reported.

The Communists have bought grain from abroad but have continued to export rice, the Chinese people's staple food.

For years, Red China has been Hong Kong's biggest supplier of foodstuffs, yet Hong Kong sends hundreds of thousands of food parcels to the mainland every month.

Despite Communist claims of bumper crops, basic rations for the ordinary people in major cities have remained unchanged — from 24 to 26 catties per month. One catty is equivalent to 1 1-3 pounds.

Small Rations

In rural areas rations are smaller and inferior in quality. In some localities, monthly rations are as low as 10 catties, comprising rice, sweet potatoes and millet.

A healthy man consumes about one catty of rice daily. One can buy food on the official open market, but only those who receive remittances from friends and relatives overseas can afford this high-price food. While an importer of wheat and rice, Peking has kept exporting food abroad, even during the critical famine years of 1959-62.

Mrs. Rollefson is twice divorced—once from her first husband, a Chicagoan by whom she has three children, and whose name she now uses; and from Reimers.

Defense Attorney Richard E. Johnson questioned Mrs. Rollefson on the matrimonial problems which led to several divorce actions, two filed by herself, and one by the defendant.

Mrs. Rollefson never glanced at her accused former husband.

A letter from J. L. Walker, county farm agent, advised the board it will receive a questionnaire asking for suggestions for the Wolf River Basin Regional Planning Commission. The note asked the questionnaires be returned by May 10.

The board approved a resolution to transfer $7,800 from the contingent fund. It includes $100 for the tax deed fund needed for the sale of county property, and $7,700 for the social security account which did not receive budget increases for salary increases granted.

Jury Excused
During an interim when the court sought to determine whether Reimers' confession of the murder of Holmes was admissible, the jury was excused.

Judge Wendell McHenry ruled the confession to police officers was admissible on grounds Reimers was a rational man, he had business experience, and had graduated from high school.

Others called to the stand Tuesday were:

Dr. John Steiner, who treated Mrs. Rollefson's head wounds, which she said had been inflicted by the defendant. It was said the wounds required 41 stitches.

Undersheriff William Mork told Dist. Atty. Gerald K. Anderson that Reimers had not been bullied into the confession which he gave the morning hours of Nov. 10.

Sheriff Loran Frazier testified for reasons of his own judgment he did not tell the accused man Holmes had finally died from the gunshot wounds. It was testified Reimers was not so informed until five days later.

Speaking slowly and clearly, the 46-year-old former meat cutter and salesman described the events leading to the fatal shooting of Willys Holmes, 40-year-old associate of Mrs. Ruth Rollefson, Reimers' former wife.

Reimers is pleading innocent of two charges by reason of temporary insanity.

He is being tried in Waupaca County Court before Judge Wendell McHenry for murder in the first degree for the Holmes slaying and for the attempted murder of Mrs. Rollefson. The trial is in its third day.

Describes Events

Reimers described events leading up to the murder and the murder itself in a Chain O' Lakes cottage in which the divorced pair lived together.

Instructed to describe the scene which he allegedly observed between Holmes and Mrs. Rollefson, and which sparked the fatal shooting, Reimers paused and said, "I can't. It's awful hard to describe a thing like that."

"I couldn't believe my eyes," he said. "Something had to be done. My mind just exploded. I couldn't think straight. I stepped back into the bedroom and got the rifle."

Here, for the first time, Reimers' voice rose. He paused, then was questioned by his court-appointed attorney, Richard E. Johnson.

Shaking Like Leaf
"I was shaking like a leaf. I couldn't hardly put the shell in the gun. There was like a freight train going through my head," he said.

He testified he fired the .22 caliber, single shot, bolt action rifle from a hip-high position and that he did not at first realize the bullet had struck Holmes.

"All I wanted to do was chase them out of there. Holmes put his arms across his chest," Reimers continued, demonstrating. "Then he backed up to the wall and slowly went down to his knees."

Reimers described using the rifle to strike his ex-wife over the head, a blow which broke the weapon in two and rendered it inoperative. He alleged he struck her to keep her from attacking him.

Using Hands
"She was coming at me like this," he said, using his hands to indicate claws. He testified the gun stock was old, implying it broke readily, and that he believed he struck Mrs. Rollefson only once. He said he urged the bleeding woman to use a towel to staunch the flow of blood, and then asked her to get help for the dying Holmes.

"I told her that this was no time for us to fight. I said, 'Here's a man who needs help.'"

No Angry Words
After Mrs. Rollefson departed in search of help, he said, he carried on a conversation with Holmes and there were no angry words. He estimated the time of the conversation as between 6 and 10 minutes. He was warned by defense attorney Johnson not to reveal the subject of the conversation at the present time.

Reimers then described leaving the scene of the shooting and taking a glass of beer in a tavern across the street from the office of Sheriff Loran Frazier. He gave himself up, he said, to Frazier's 23-year-old son, Ronald, who was acting as jailer.

He described what he said was troubles which came "as a result of Ruth going out with other men." There were three divorce actions initiated by the couple, one instituted by Reimers, and two by Mrs. Rollefson. He said he told himself, "Here we go again."

old Clark, Weyauwega, termed it "political." The letter asked support of the homestead tax relief for aged proposal, which would reduce rents for people over 65. The governor suggested the money come from state revenues rather than be added to the property tax.

Supv. Earl Christiansen, Town of Helvetia, chairman of the county highway committee, reported on a regional planning meeting at Antigo. Another conference will be held to further plans for the highway system.

Supv. Ervin Remling, Clintonville, circulated a letter which was signed by all members of the board commending E. A. Hutchinson, retired agriculture teacher at Clintonville, for his 40 years of work with the farm youth of the county.

End Bounties

A letter from the conservation commission announced plans to discontinue paying a state bounty for animals. Instead, the state plans to set the allotment aside for matching funds for conservation projects in each county. Under the proposal, Waupaca county's share of the fund is $1,200.

Supv. Sturm appointed a committee on committees consisting of Supv. Woodrow Smith, Clintonville; Supv. Arnold Dredtke, Town of Union; Supv. Harold Clark, Weyauwega; Supv. Emil Gehrke, New London; Supv. Harold Steenbock, Town of Larabee; Supv. Leonard Peterson, Waupaca; Supv. Walter Rusch, Town of Caledonia, and Supv. Kenneth Egan, Town of Lebanon.

The standing committees will be announced today during the board meeting.

Rule Forbidding Obstructions at Airport Passes

An ordinance which restricts the height of structures to be built in the area of the new Outagamie County airport, one month ago a hotly-debated issue, was passed with hardly a murmur by the Outagamie County Board of Supervisors Tuesday morning.

Supv. Mark Callin said the ordinance has been interpreted into a map which would be more easily read. The map is on file at the airport construction site and at the county courthouse. Supv. Rudolph Spreeman, Town of Greenville, who last month opposed passage of the ordinance because he could not understand the restrictions, today said he was satisfied with the map. The vote was 51 in favor of four absent.

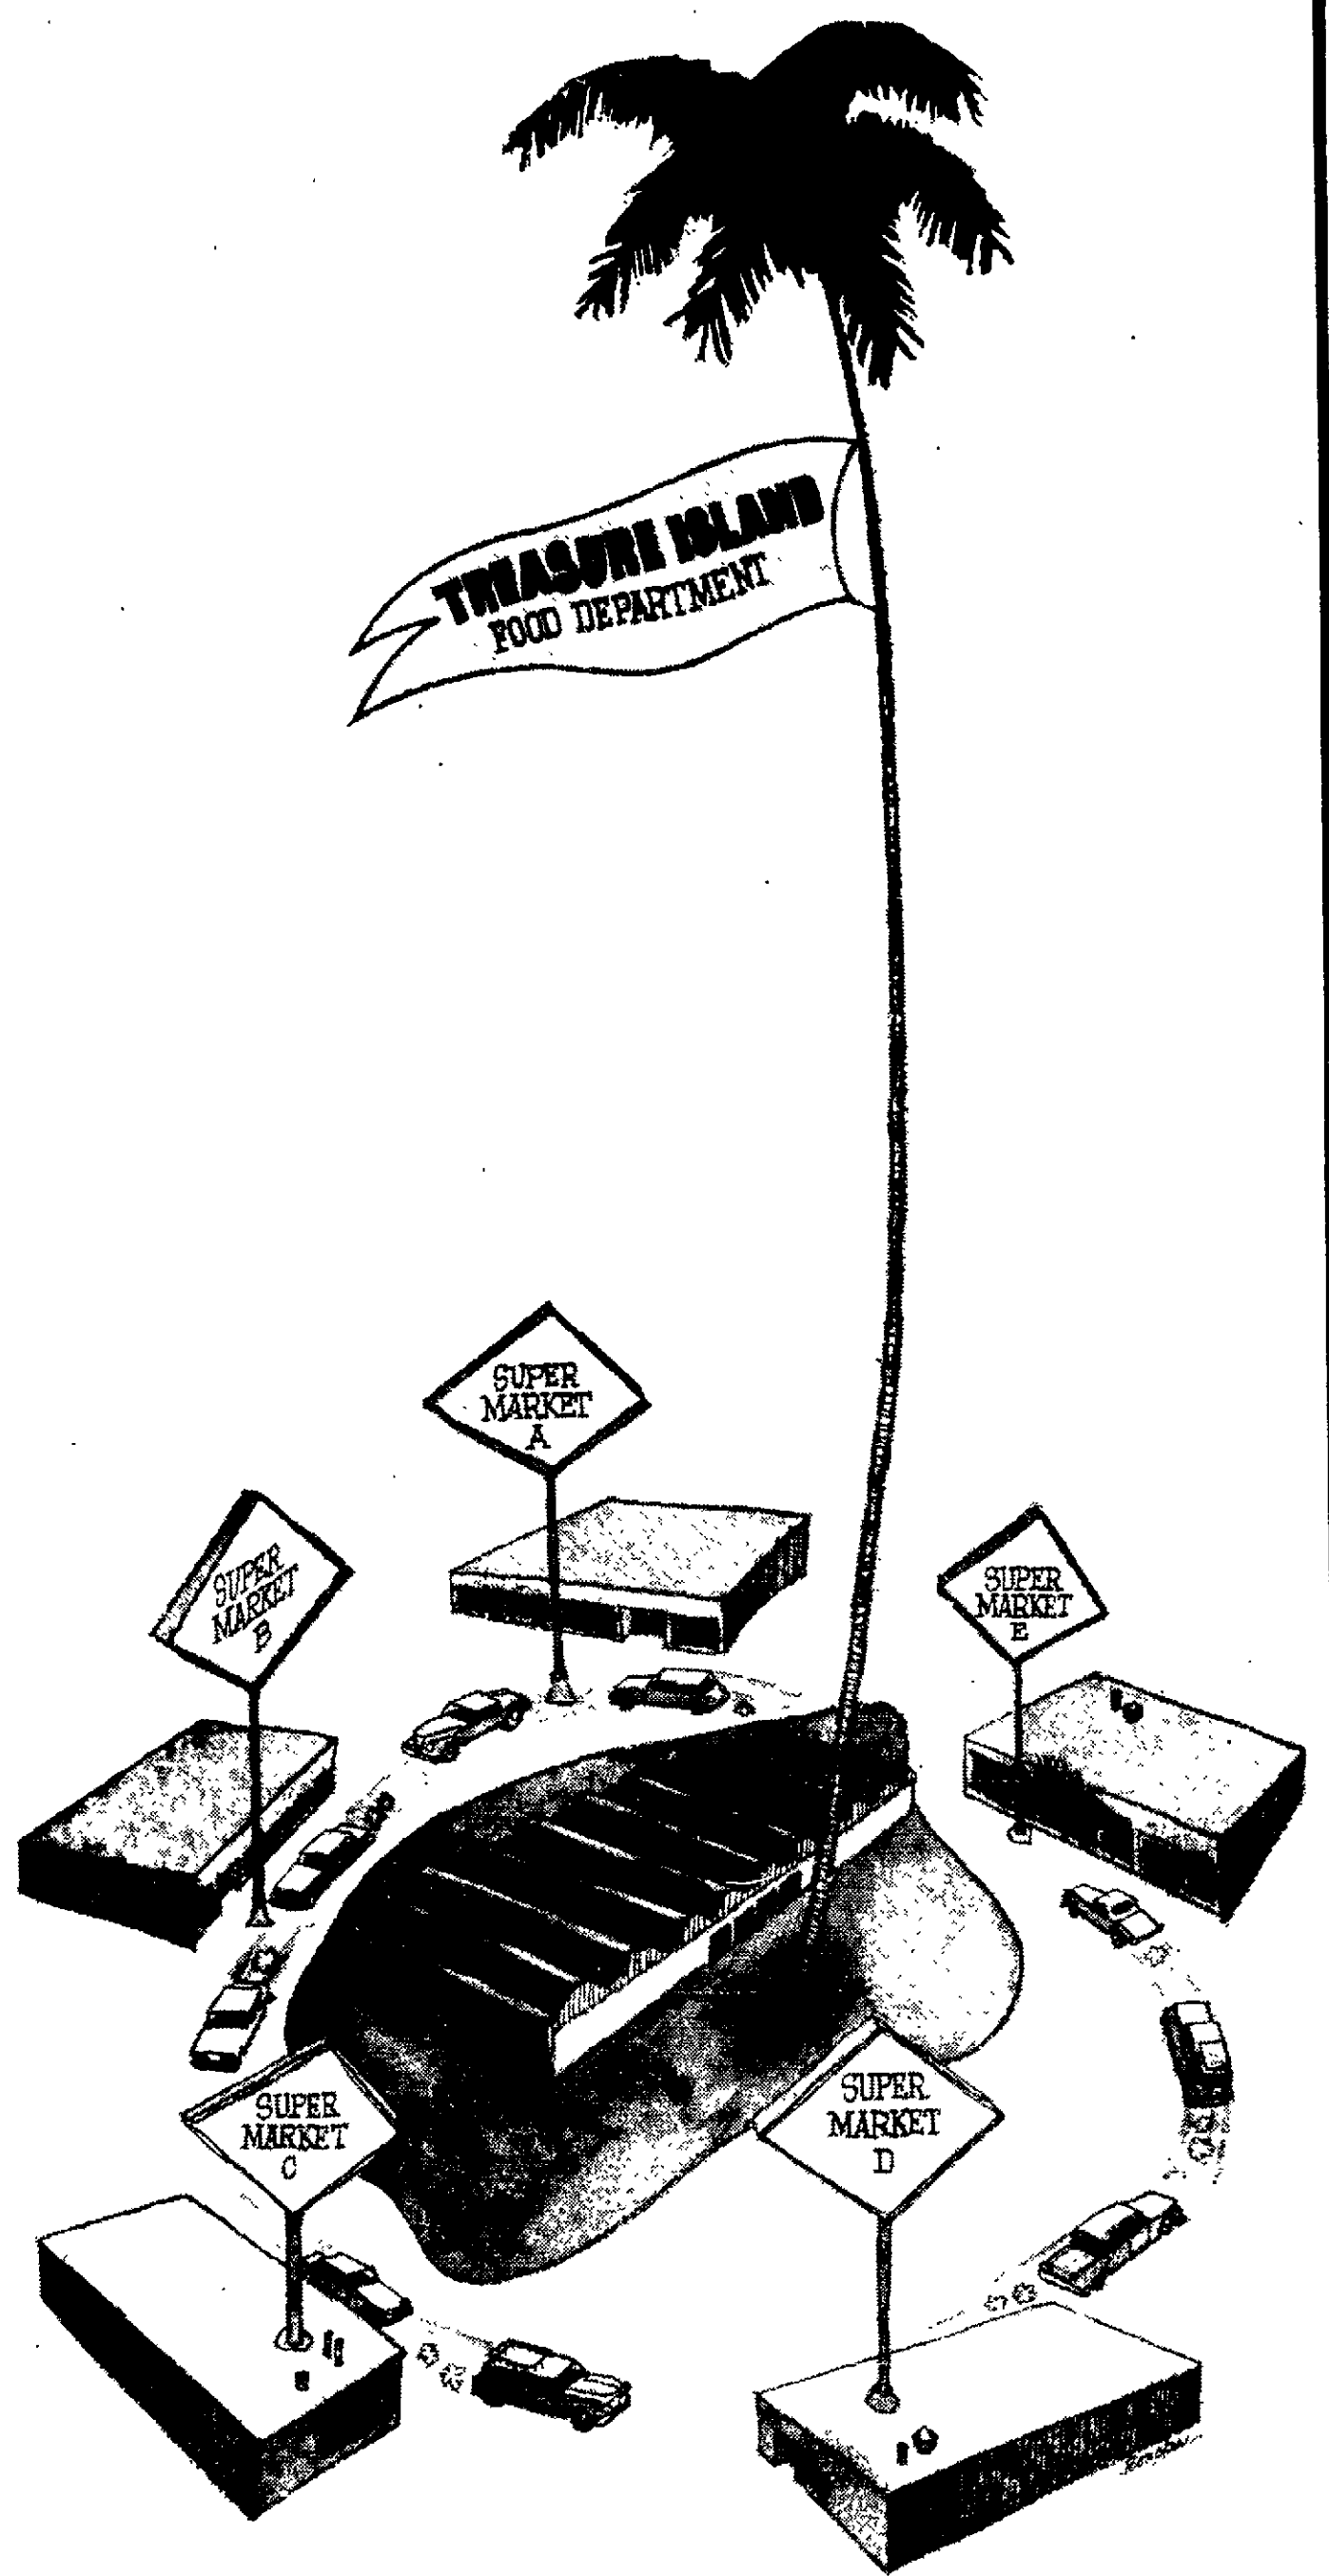

Re-elected to new terms without any opposition were Sylvester Esler, county institutions admissions board; A. C. Remley, joint university center committee; George Walter, the Civil Service appeal committee, and John Corcoran, the handicapped children's education committee.

In February, 1963, he reported, but the couple was "back together."

Met Holmes

Reimers alleged his divorced wife introduced him to Holmes May 23, while they were dining at Oakwood Inn southwest of here. He said he and Mrs. Rollefson returned home about 11 p.m., but that she departed again and did not return until 3 a.m.

He also testified Mrs. Rollefson did not come home any of the three nights preceding the shooting, and that he was overworked and worried. He was unemployed during this period, and Mrs. Rollefson was working on the fatal Saturday night and he did not expect her home.

Chilton to Borrow For Sewage Plant Rejuvenation Job

City Council Accepts Bank's Bid for $105,000 Financing

CHILTON — The city will borrow $105,000 for the rejuvenation of its sewage treatment plant.

This action was taken Tuesday night by the city council at the recommendation of the finance committee.

Bids to finance the repair project were requested and of the eight received, The State Bank of Chilton was low with an interest rate of 3 per cent.

The council approved taking promissory notes payable June 1, 1965, through 1974.

Sewage Charges
It was suggested that from the approximate $34,000 collected each year for sewage charges, a portion would be used to pay off the notes.

Due the first year will be $13,650, $10,500 of which is payment on principal and $3,150 is payment on interest.

Vincent Reinkober, utilities commissioner, stated that in past years 28 per cent of the utility's total was used for such payments.

At the recommendation of the engineers for the project, a time extension for the start of construction will be requested. Originally the state had set the deadline at May 1, which had been extended from December.

Avoid Loss

The extension was requested to avoid loss of federal funds. Before construction can be started, contracts must be signed and approved by the state and federal governments. This could take until after the May 1 deadline, the council learned.

Wants Owners of Older Homes to Paint and Remodel

He asked the council to figure out some way to encourage home painting, clean-up and remodeling. He also suggested giving home - owners a tax "break" for remodeling.

Concerted Drive
Lindscoog said a drive should be started this spring.

Mayor Lloyd Matheson said there are a number of home projects which do not effect the assessed value of a home, including painting, roofing and remodeling in the interior. He said assessments increase for additions to homes.

The council received a petition signed by 18 people charging a home at North and Wisconsin streets is a fire hazard and unsafe for children.

The President Changed His Mind

President Lyndon Johnson told newspaper editors gathered in Washington that "our nation will live in tormented ease" until the civil rights bill is passed. Earlier the President stressed that the bill must not be weakened from its present form as passed by the House of Representatives and that it had top priority in the legislation he felt essential.

But it was not always thus. As a representative and senator from Texas, Mr. Johnson consistently voted against all proposals to outlaw the poll tax requirement for voting registration. He fervently opposed all efforts to strengthen federal civil rights legislation. At various times he spoke of the dangers in such laws to the states and the federal system.

Of course there is good reason for the change. As a congressman from a southern state, Lyndon Johnson was reflecting the views of the majority of Texas voters if not the majority of all, black and white, who should have been voting in southern states. The gap between what a congressman backs and what his constituents favor cannot be too great or he will not be a congressman long.

But the President of the United States represents all the people in the nation, not a section, a powerful voting bloc, or a regional attitude. President Johnson is an able politician who readily understands that at this time in our history opposition to the bill would be personally damaging to him, particularly if the Republicans were to nominate a liberal leaning presidential candidate. As the President said in a news conference, he enjoys his work and is planning to continue.

President Johnson is a master at working out the intricate arrangements, compromises and bargains that are necessary for our government to function. We do not write this in disparagement.

But it is equally obvious that the President's backing of the civil rights bill does not come from the heart. And he is wise in not even pretending to act as if it does.

The Russians Call the Turn but—

The twist may be fading from the American teen-age scene as other and even more fantastic contortions take its place. But in the Soviet Union it still is being practiced at private parties and surreptitiously on public dance floors when the secret police aren't around. And Russian efforts to find something cultural to supplant it have failed.

In true bureaucratic fashion — and somehow this reminds us of some of the projects dreamed up in Washington which may or may not lend credence to the right wing theory that Reds have occupied the State Department — the Russians appointed a commission to figure out an acceptable dance. The specialists included a professor of therapeutic gymnastics, a pen-tathlon coach and an expert in Russian group dancing.

The task wasn't easy. There couldn't be too much reliance upon Cossack dances with the ties to the regimes of the Czars. There had to be more of a reason for the dance than merely pleasure. After a lot of research and experimentation the commission happily announced the Enthusiastics' Dance. A blurb insisted it was "a highly original dance from beginning to end combining in incredible fashion the smoothness of ancient Slavic tribal dances (safely before the capitalistic exploitations) and the set of exercises required for attainment of the Physical Culture Medal, Second Class."

But the dance was badly misnamed. Not an enthusiast from the official commission and a handful of high ranking party members could be found. Young Russians went out for a smoke or a sip of vodka whenever the band struck up the tune. They also boycotted the Slag Heap and another athletic concoction designed to exercise all the muscles of the body in one tour of the dance floor and revive flagging Communist spirits as well. Even Khrushchev failed to have his picture taken trying out the commission's triumph.

It's a little hard to tell just who is corrupting whom as far as dancing is concerned. An East German band reportedly played in Moscow recently and almost its entire repertoire consisted of twist tunes. Maybe this is some sort of reverse infiltration — or German vengeance.

But as long as young Russian Reds prefer the twist to the approved Soviet two-steps, there is hope for coexistence. Of course some American parents may refuse to go along with agreement with the Communists on such terms. They might prefer that their children be Red rather than completely out of joint.

Lodge Is Ahead

Much to the apparent dismay of many Republican politicians, Henry Cabot Lodge has appeared as the front running choice among prospective Republican voters in two polls. His sudden emergence as a serious contender for the Republican presidential nomination has come from his winning of the New Hampshire primary even though his name did not appear on the ballot. But it was not merely a stroke of luck. Lodge had a well organized campaign conducted by his son.

Trends in voter sympathy are not always easy to fathom. Lodge is a long way away and has expressed himself hardly at all on any of the issues. As Ambassador to Viet Nam he cannot criticize President Johnson's foreign policy at this point and will have difficulties in so doing even if he resigns since he has been part of it. He has not been a remarkable vote getter in the past, losing in Massachusetts to John Kennedy in a senatorial race, and once again in the campaign for president and vice president in 1960.

We Don't Need Better Highways, The Need Is for Better Drivers

Editor, Post-Crescent:
Re: Wisconsin Need For More Super Highways

Why so much interest in building more super highways so as to eliminate Wisconsin driving hazards and reduce our death rate? What we really need are more educated drivers before we get more super highways or we may not have enough population left to use our super highways.

The two examples we saw recently are self-explanatory:

Both happened on perfectly clear days — when roads were in good driving condition. We wonder how the other drivers felt at seeing these two women driving north on the south lane of 41. They drove onto 41 from between two southbound cars and headed straight for us. We were passing at the time near the 41-BB overhead exit. What exactly do "Do Not Enter" signs get posted for? We wonder! We were shocked as apparently were the five cars behind us. No one even blew a horn at them. And last we could see they were still driving north in the south lane. People were staring in disbelief. But, that's all they did!

The other was a group of men on 41 and 10. We were driving the south exit off 10 to 41 and the men were driving north on this south exit.

Either one could have been tragic. And maybe more so at night. It looks like some people are deliberately trying for suicide. Why?

We would be most interested in seeing how many others are interested enough to comment; also, on their various experiences, other than the two we have mentioned. Was our state death toll as high before the advent of super highways?

Trips by City Officials Criticized

Editor, Post-Crescent:

I can see that the election is over and that economy is out and spending is in!

I noticed the article in Saturday's Post-Crescent, April 11, on page A3 that Mayor Clarence Mitchell "will attend the U. S. Conference of Mayors in New York, May 24-27." Are his travel and other expenses paid for by us taxpayers? Another question: Doesn't the World's Fair open on April 22?

I also read in the same article that Assessor John Pierre will attend a "convention in Los Angeles Oct. 4-7."

Also, the city clerk, finance director, treasurer, mayor (again?) and any members of the finance committee wishing to attend were authorized to attend a convention in La Crosse, June 24-26.

About how much of our money is spent each year on sending our city officials on these trips? I fail to see what benefit we taxpayers get out of this.

Old Charcoal

Radiocarbon dating of charcoal from the ruins near L'Anse aux Meadows, a small Newfoundland fishing village, indicates the site was occupied about 1000 A.D. when Leif Ericson and other Viking seafarers traditionally sailed from Greenland to North America.

Opinion Survey Asks Parochial School Effect

CHICAGO (AP)—A nationwide survey of Catholics is under way to attempt to measure the effect of parochial school education on their lives.

It is being carried out by the National Opinion Research Center of the University of Chicago in cooperation with the University of Notre Dame, financed by a $136,000 Carnegie Corporation grant.

Everyone Perplexed By Madison Reports On Income and Taxes

BY JOHN WYNGAARD

MADISON — A statehouse correspondent who hopes that his reports are noted by the people of Wisconsin for whom they are written must occasionally wonder about the confusion they may create in the minds of the attentive reader.

Wyngaard

Consider how confounding must be the running story of the last eight or nine months of the state's financial situation to the interested school principal in Sturgeon Bay, the county board chairman in Stevens Point, or the newspaper editor in Wautoma.

It was less than nine months ago that the headlines blared out the troubled events in the capitol attending the budget-balancing crisis. Payless pay days were threatened. Service cutbacks had been blueprinted, when the governor and the Legislature desperately pinned together the most unwieldy revenue program ever conceived. They scraped up every last tax dollar they could contrive. They acted with such ardor that they enacted an income tax which would apply even to those persons who had no taxable income. The flavor of those weeks can be recalled by the fact that when the people responded to the news of the so-called $2 head tax, both parties precipitately rushed a repealer to the printer in November.

STRANGE STORY

In November the fiscal situation had miraculously improved, the experts said. Forgetting their consternation in August, the governor and the Legislature lost no time in spending what they were told was an unexpected balance. Now the news is even more miraculous. Instead of being in dangerously tight balance the budget situation is so much changed for the better that the governor can get up at the lectern in the Assembly and proudly announce a surplus of $50,000,000, no less. Inevitably, he has also at hand a plan for getting rid of most of it.

By this time the interested citizen may be having some misgivings about the credibility of the news dispatches from Madison.

Nor can any reporter who prepares those news reports find it in his heart to blame him.

But what will the curious or skeptical reader think a few months hence, say in February or March of 1965, when there will again be a dominant theme of crisis and headline announcements of a deficit that will probably amount to $100 millions, and may very well be larger? Will he wearily turn the page?

THE STORY

Then the governor — whoever he is — and the Legislature which will contain most of the same members will hurry to re-enact some of the taxes they are now eliminating. Some of them will be wondering why they didn't retain the modest surplus — if it turns out to exist — to lessen the burden of financing the 1965 budget.

The Reynolds surplus, in a most generous interpretation, is in large part theoretical. It is based upon optimistic speculation to a considerable degree. Even taken at its face value, it is a small balance for an enterprise which is as large as the state government today. By previous standards in more conservative times, it would be regarded as a minimum and normal reserve against contingencies and to prevent the start of a new administration with a bare cupboard.

With a professional regard for the uses of semantics, the governor has informed the Legislature that it is improper and perhaps sinful for a government to "hoard" the people's money when it is not immediately needed. To tax simply to pile up money in the treasury is "confiscation," he says.

One wonders whether his family, noted for its thrift and prudence, handled its affairs under such rules. There tugs at the sleeve also the idea that the governor's banker would lecture him if he should present a personal financial statement put together as was his state fiscal report.

Strictly Speaking

Often Treat Disease Instead of Patient

BY SYDNEY J. HARRIS

Speaking of the human need to put labels on things, as I was yesterday, reminded me of something a psychiatrist remarked at dinner not long ago.

He teaches a class of medical students at a hospital, and remarked that he had a "double job." The first part of the job was to show the students how to make a diagnosis; the second part was to discourage them from regarding the person as a disease.

"Here is what I mean," he said. "It is important that the students learn to diagnose schizophrenia, in its various forms and states, in order to be able to treat the patient and to understand what is going on."

Patient to Disease
"At the same time," he continued, "once a patient is clearly labeled 'schizophrenic,' then the doctor tends to treat the label instead of the person. And not only that — the patient himself, once he knows this label has been pasted on him, somehow tends more and more to conform to the classic pattern of the schizophrenic."

"But you can't make a diagnosis without giving it a name," I said.

"True," he nodded, "but the point I'm making is that giving something a name turns it into an abstraction, and then we go to work on the abstraction rather than on the living form itself. That's why, until recent times, lepers were confined to leper colonies, because the work was such a horrible thing — even though we've now learned that leprosy isn't the dread or highly contagious disease we thought it was."

"I can see where a doctor might be tempted to treat a classification instead of a person," I said. "But why should this affect the patient himself? What does it matter if a schizophrenic knows he is one?"

Bad Becomes Bad
"In some cases, of course, it doesn't matter," he answered. "In many others, though, it does. If a child is called 'bad' often enough, he acts bad. I don't mean that calling him makes him so — but it weakens his powers of resistance to badness, and makes him accept it as something objective and inevitable."

"The names we call people by influence both our attitudes toward them, and their attitudes toward themselves," he went on. "If we call minority groups insulting names long enough, we begin to believe in the truth of these insults — but, more than that, our contempt filters into their system and they get filled with self-contempt, and then sometimes act so as to justify the initial insult. A label belongs on a bottle, not on a person."

These civil rights demonstrators planning to stall traffic at the World's Fair must be nuts. Who do they think they are — Senators?

The U. S. assures Zanzibar that our ships are in the Indian Ocean on a friendly mission — and we can lick anybody who says they aren't.

Republicans will meet to study the farm problem. If they can just get some farm votes, all they'll need is some city votes and they'll finish a strong second.

Hotel Magnate Seeks To Attain Two Goals

BY HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—At 67, Ernest Henderson, a dry, spare proper Bostonian with deep-set blue eyes, has two goals left. He'd like to write a hit song, and he'd like to operate a billion-dollar system of 300 hotels. "I don't know when I'll turn out a popular song that is really popular—although I did get a $1.65 royalty check for one," he said. "But we hope to have the 300 hotels in 10 or a dozen years."

As chairman of Sheraton Corp. of America, he now operates a system of 90 hotels with some 36,000 rooms that served 15 million guests and did a business of $234 million in 1963.

An Accident

Henderson and his Harvard classmate, Robert Moore, co-founder of the Sheraton system, became innkeepers by accident.

In 1937 they were in the business of building battery radios. As an investment they bought control of a small real estate investment trust for $10,000.

"One of the properties turned out to be a hotel—and we've been in the field ever since," said Henderson. In 27 years he and Moore parlayed their $10,000 into an empire with assets of $350 million, 24,000 employees and about 19,000 stockholders.

The two partners direct their enterprises from a small, old-fashioned office they share which overlooks Boston harbor.

Main Factor

Henderson has a simple, direct business philosophy: "When you work at something, you like to see something come out of it—results."

"The main factor in success is the determination to succeed.

What defeats most people is insufficient follow-through. They become too easily discouraged," he said.

"There's another thing I believe is important. That's to give a fair break to the fellow you're dealing with, so you can make further deals with that same person later, deals that are advantageous to you both."

Henderson also likes to give attention to the small details of any hotel he visits. One of his pet peeves is glaring, high-powered bulbs in the kitchens. He believes they cause unconscious

FALSE TEETH That Loosen Need Not Embarrass

Many wearers of false teeth have suffered real embarrassment because their plates dropped, slipped or wobbled at just the wrong time. Do not live in fear of this happening to you. Just sprinkle a little FASTEETH, the alkaline (non-acid) powder, on your plates. Hold false teeth more firmly, so they feel more comfortable. Does not sour. Checks "plate odor breath." Get FASTEETH at drug counters everywhere.
